BULLETIN

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Apollo 10 spacecraft and its crew of three landed safely in the South Pacific shortly before 1 p.m. today.

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Racing toward a blazing finale to their pathfinder moon journey, the Apollo 10 astronauts today fired a brief engine burst to zero in in a landing target in the South Pacific.

"It's fantastic to come all the way back from the moon and have this kind of a midcourse burn," Air Force Col. Thomas P. Stafford said of the 6.6-second ignition.

He referred to the near perfect course he and Navy Cmdrs. John W. Young and Eugene A. Cernan had been on since they propeled themselves out of moon orbit Saturday.

The accuracy had been so great that two earlier midcourse corrections were cancelled and the one today altered their landing spot.

The firing sent the astronauts hurtling toward a narrow flight angle that would slam them into the earth's thickening atmosphere 400,000 feet above the Pacific at 24,694 miles per hour. Just nine miles later the craft dangles under three huge parachutes, dropping down at 22 m.p.h.

Splashdown was set for 12:52 p.m. EDT, 400 miles east of Pago Pago.

The touchdown will climax an eight-day voyage of discovery that cleared the way for two Americans to walk on the moon in July.

Earlier, just five hours and 43,000 miles from splashdown, the astronauts beamed their final television show, transmitting a brilliant color picture of the earth looming larger by the minute.

Each of the astronauts came on camera with some thoughts about the mission during which they circled the moon 2½ days.

Young: "The whole mission has been unbelievable. .. We've felt very strong about sharing the adventure, the challenges and rewards of these eight days with the world through television. .. We hope we've made the millions of people of the world more a part of tht history that's being made in our day and age."

Cernan: "I'm convinced after this mission that none of them are going to be easy. But nothing is impossible, and I think the future of manned spaceflight from now and many generations to come is going to uncover many, many other challenges and experiences that we are really incapable of even conceiving at this time."

Stafford: "Man has certainly progressed a long ways in just a few short years. And how much we're going to progress in the future is left to your imagination. But if we harness our energies and keep our perspectives right, the goals are unlimited. .. See you back on the good earth."

As the astronauts neared their homecoming, they were on a near-perfect course.

The weather in the recovery area was good with a forecast of light winds at about 11 miles an hour, sea swells of three to four feet and partly cloudy skies.

The astronauts' work day began shortly before 6 a.m. EDT when mission control put a record of a bugle sounding reveille on their radio circuit.

"Where'd you learn that kind of noise?" Cernan responded in sleepy tones. "Besides, it's 30 minutes early."

Space center comentator Joe Engle told him, "It's your last day out there. We don't want you to miss anything. Why don't you guys come on home today?"

"Yeah, I think we will," said Cernan. Then, after a look through a spacecraft window, "Oh, my golly, you're getting big (meaning his vision of earth)! You're beautiful! I never thought I'd say that about you, but you sure look good."

Stafford, Young and Cernan did not expect to stay overnight on the carrier as did earlier Apollo teams. After medical examination, shower and food, they planned to fly by helicopter to Samoa, where they would transfer to a jet transport for a trip to Ellington Air Force Base near Houston's Manned Spacecraft Center and a reunion with their families. A long delay in pickup could cause the flight to Samoa to be delayed to Tuesday.

Stafford, Young and Cernan were in good humor and eager to get home as their sturdy spaceship neared the end of its 246,000-mile return trip from the moon.

Sunday they aimed their color television camera out one window and relayed pictures of a receding moon. Then, through

Leftists Gain Power After Sudan Coup

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A leftist government was installed in Sudan Sunday after an apparently bloodless coup by a group of Colonels.

The officers overthrew a civilian regime headed by President Ismail el Azhari and Premier Mohammed A. Mahgoub and vested supreme power in a National Revolutionary Council headed by Col. Jaafar al Numairi, the army said in a broadcast

The council banned public gatherings, closed all banks, suspended newspaper publication, annulled the 1954 provisional consitution, and dissolved the cabinet and the constitutional assembly. Airports were closed but reopened Sunday night.

Numairi, a former defense minister, was described by sources in Damascus as an extreme leftist. The sources said the new leaders in Sudan are leftist Socialists or Communists and that their government would probably follow political and economic policies similar to those of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The Sudanese radio said the revolutionary council had promoted Numairi to major general, named him commander in chief of the armed forces and reappointed him defense minister in a new 19-man cabinet. The new premier is Babakar Awadallah, also regarded as left leaning who resigned as Sudan's chief justice in 1964.

There was no immediate word of the whereabouts of the ousted president and premier. Gen. Hamadallah Deif el Nil, the ousted

Police today are continuing investigation of a spectacular traffic crash early Sunday in Klondyke that claimed the life of an East Liverpool woman and left another in critical condition at City Hospital.

Mrs. Ruth Martin, 45, of 1025 Ephriam St. was pronounced dead on arrival at City Hospital after a westbound 1961 two-door sedan ran out of control at 2:07 on Harvey Ave. at Putnam St.

Mrs. Inez M. Wolfe of 420 Grove Alley is in City Hospital with multiple injuries, including lacerations of the left knee and leg, lacerations of the left arm and a possible fractured left thigh.

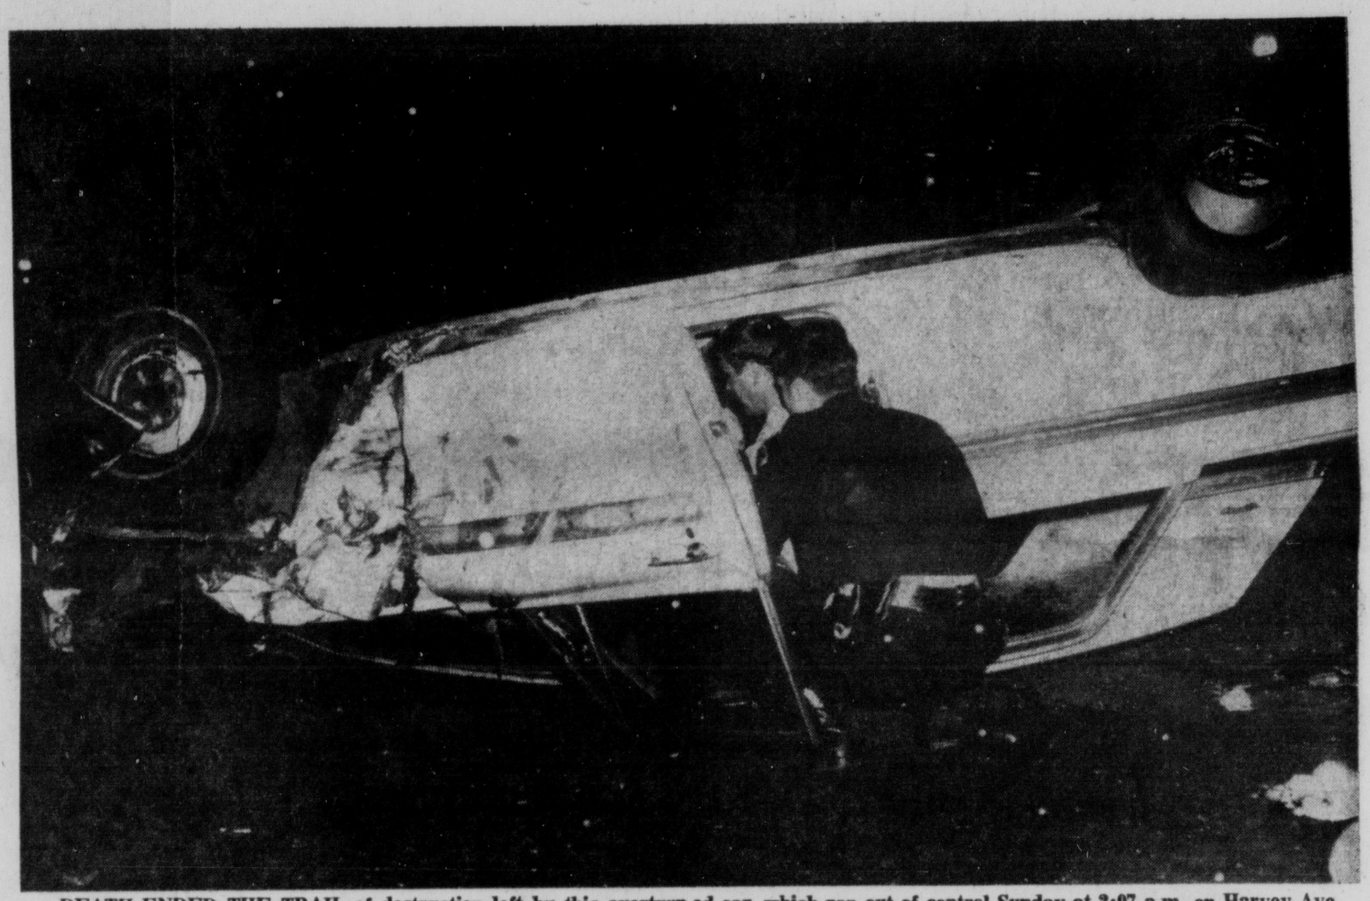

The auto was registered to Mrs. Wolfe, but officers have not determined which of the women was driving at the time of the crash. The vehicle was termed a total loss.

Firemen were called to help police extricate the two women from the smashed auto, which flipped end-for-end and came to a halt on its roof. A small fire also broke out in the front seat.

Police said the sedan first collided with a parked 1960 station wagon owned by Richard J. Reynolds of 2117 Harvey Ave., causing extensive damage to the left rear. The station wagon was parked approximately 180 feet east of Putnam St.

The auto then continued out of control for 150 feet, shearing a fire hydrant, and went another 25 feet, breaking off a utility pole and demolishing a bus shelter directly behind the utility pole. A mailbox which had been fastened to the pole was hurled 111 feet beyond the

Answers Democrat Charges

Laird Backs U.S. Combat Strategy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird has spoken out in support of U.S. battlefield tactics in Vietnam, which Democratic critics say cause needless loss of American lives.

"It's always been our goal to keep the maximum pressure on the enemy consistent with the lowest possible casualties," Laird said Sunday, adding that U.S. commanders continue under instructions to carry out this policy.

Laird, a Republican congressman from Wisconsin before President Nixon appointed him defense chief, outlined his view in an interview before he boarded his airplane for a week-long North Atlantic Treaty Organization planning conference in Brussels and London.

Battlefield tactics have come under mounting criticism from Democratic leaders since the 10-day battle in which GIs drove North Vietnamese off Dong Ap Bia Mountain in 11 assaults that cost some 50 American lives.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., called the battle "senseless and irresponsible" in a Senate speech last week and his stand was supported over the weekend by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D.

Mansfield said Sunday the United States is jeopardizing progress in the Paris peace talks by escalating the war through expanded military pres-

U.S. Troops Open 2 New Offensives

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command today announced two new American offensives in South Vietnam's northernmost province and said they were aimed at "capturing or destroying enemy forces, material and installations."

The two new drives have accounted for 142 North Vietnamese soldiers killed since they began, one 18 days ago, the other 11 days ago, U.S. Headquarters said. U.S. casualties were put at 28 killed and 134 wounded.

The command said announcement of the operations were withheld for security reasons.

One of the offensives, Operation Lamar Plain, was launched May 16 by hundreds of paratroopers from the U.S. 101st Airborne Division in jungled foothills 45 miles south of Da Nang. It is aimed at taking pressure off the important provincial capital of Tam Ky, around which there has been heavy fighting in recent weeks. The U.S. Command said 113 North Vietnamese and 26 paratroopers have been killed, and 102 paratroopers wounded.

In the second drive, about 1,000 U.S. Marines from the 3rd Division are checking an area north-northeast of the abandoned combat base of Khe Sanh

Temperature Dips, But Not To May Low

The temperature dipped to an overnight low of 33 degrees at Millport, U. S. weather observer Edwin Copeland reports.

It was not a record low for the district for this time of the year, however.

Copeland recalled freezing temperatures and heavy frost in May 1963 when there was heavy damage to rye and other crops.

The Weather Bureau at Pittsburgh said the temperature plummeted to a record low of 34 there. The old mark was a 37 in 1961.

The weather is to continue clear and cool tonight, with fair and warmer the outlook for Tuesday.

Tomorrow's high will range from the upper 60s to the middle 70s.

Temperatures around Ohio generally were in the 30s in the northeast and central areas overnight.

Students Seek Extra Money

The Summer Job Search

By ROBERT POPP

There's another "dollars for scholars" program that has gone on longer than the Tri-State District's annual fund canvass and has done as much or more to help students meet college and high school expenses.

It's an old - fashioned thing called "working for wages," a way of raising educational expenses that probably goes back to establishment of the first institutions of higher learning.

And it's practiced zealously in the East Liverpool district each summer as students on three - month vacations look for jobs that will provide the money to see them through another academic year.

The office of the Ohio Bureau of Employment Services at 401 College St. is gearing up to play its traditional role in matching employers with prospective employes. It's particularly interested in the task of matching qualified students with job orders filed by employers, whether they're industrial plants, retail stores or householders looking for some part - time help for grass - cutting and hedge-trimming.

THE QUEST for a summer job often begins shortly after Christmas for many college students. They've been told by advisers that they must put in applications early because the number of part - time jobs is far short of the number of seekers.

Of the dozens of applicants whose names are on file now, the number is divided about equally between high school and college students. The office has found that college students particularly are interested in full-time vacation work because they face heavier expenses in the upcoming term.

Of the high school students seeking summer work, most want an opportunity to accumulate money for clothing and to sock some funds away for the term's social activities. They don't face expenses for tuition, books, board and room and other outlays confronting college students.

Not all students find jobs through the state employment office, of course. Some locate work through friends, relatives or acquaintances. Often a student will land in a part-time job on his first summer home from college and continue with the same company until his education is finished. The students frequently find jobs with the same firms during the Christmas vacation, particularly if the employer is a retail store at the height of its seasonal rush.

AND MANY college students locate summer jobs far from East Liverpool. Summer resorts, for instance, recruit large number of bus boys, life guards, waitresses and other miscellaneous help directly on campus or through advertisements in newspapers in college towns.

A student from Kansas may wind up on the Atlantic Coast washing dishes or baby - sitting in a resort hotel and another from Tennessee may find a job in one of the National Parks in the far west, grilling cheese sandwiches in a cafeteria or emptying garbage cans into a refuse truck.

The number of local summer jobs has dwindled, if anything, in recent years for students who are away from East Liverpool throughout the college term. That's because of establishment of the Kent State University Academic Center. The center's students are here the year 'round and many of them are anxious for part - time work to help take the strain off their pocketbooks. So they're in on the ground floor when it comes to the available job - openings.

THE EMPLOYMENT office said it appears many companies now have a ready pool of people looking for part - time jobs and there are not so many opportunities for those who are away from East Liverpool during the academic year.

The staff at the Bureau of Employment Services office here is particularly anxious to help locate job - openings for students this year. The state office has issued a special directive on the program. In the state program, the offices are directed to give special attention to youngsters who fall into the so-called "poverty" and disadvantaged" brackets.

Frederick Hobbs, who is in charge of the office since the death of Charles Boso, manager, commented:

"We certainly would be willing and anxious to take all job orders that would offer employment to students. Employers may place their requests in person or by telephone. We will do everything possible to place a qualified applicant in each opening.

"THERE IS NO fee for this service, of course. This agency is a tax - supported service. We would like employers to make use of it at every opportunity. We believe that it is not practical for an employer to interview perhaps 60 people over a span of two or three days when he intends to hire only a few. Given the job order, this office can match the applicants with the jobs and refer them to the employer."

John Calhoun, senior interviewer, said the office is interested in accepting every type of job order.

"If there's a part - time position or a summer job open in a manufacturing plant or a retail store, we'll do our very best to fill it properly," he said. And, of course, students are anxious for work that others might not want to undertake if they have a family to support — tasks such as lawn - cutting or hedge-trimming a day or so a week.

"WE KNOW there are many students anxious to have work —we see them just about every day when they come to our office to place their names on file."

Hobbs and Calhoun pointed out that job opportunities are not as wide for high school students under 18. That's because of various laws on child labor and employment of females that put restrictions on the hours they may work and set up other stipulations.

The law sets a work cut - off time of 9 p.m. for girls and 10 p.m. for boys, if they're under 18, which rules out work in drive - in restaurants and other similar establishments which are open later.

India Is The Prize

While most Americans have had eyes only for the war in Vietnam, with an occasional glance at the Middle East, a situation which should merit our attention has developed involving the subcontinent of India.

During the past eight years of American involvement in Vietnam, Russia and Red China have become antagonists in a battle for control of India. The danger this poses for the world can readily be seen.

The Soviet Union looks longingly at the tremendous mineral and agricultural resources of India which have been coveted since the days of the czars.

THE KREMLIN RULERS also lick their chops when they contemplate the more than 530 million people of India they would like to gobble up (as an ally, of course). By adding this great manpower source to their own population of more than 210 million, the Russians see themselves as being able to match China's manpower of 750 million people.

The added military bases it could gain near the underside of China would be an added bonus of tremendous value.

It is no wonder that Russia is wooing India with the soft touch — granting loans, helping to build plane and steel plants and shipping arms.

Communist China, on the other hand, is employivg her muscle through inflammatory broadcasts, urging rebellion within India and providing guerilla training for hill tribesmen.

Observers believe China sees India as an economic supply base for the burgeoning population which is expected to reach a billion within 10 years.

Mindful of Red China's conquest of Tibet and the deep penetration of India itself by the Chinese in 1962, members of India's parliament have shown concern over the possibility of war between the two nations.

Although Red China is increasing its pressure on India, there are those who believe it will limit its actions to threats of nuclear bombing and fostering internal rebellion to gain control of the country.

What should be the United States' position with respect to the three nations?

Some of our politicians have declared there should be no more "Vietnams." Some of the campus and street demonstrators have echoed this contention. A segment of the general public also believes this.

WOULD THEIR POSITION be that India also is too far away and too Asian for us to assist? Would they see India as a gargantuan "Vietnam" which would claim millions, not thousands of our soldiers?

Or would the prospect of India falling to Red China as Tibet did in 1950, or to Russia as did the Iron Curtain countries, after their thinking?

There are those who, despite Vietnam, think the United States could not and would not stand aside and permit this to happen.

Americans would do well to direct their thinking to this potentiality. It is not a hypothetical situation. It is a reality.

Russia and China are waging a chess game for world power. India is a pawn. Can the United States be just an observer?

J. A. And The U.S.A.

The district's Junior Achievement organization has completed another year of business operations, its members getting a first hand exposure to the fundamentals of capitalism.

The young men and women have learned some of the problems of investment, production, sales, profits and obligations to customers, shareholders and to themselves.

Theirs has been an invaluable lesson in how the American economy works, and they and other young people across the nation will play an important part in the way it will work in the future.

It is unfortunate more students and sponsors are not involved in these practical applications of our production system. Certainly it needs greater understanding and a flow of new ideas these energetic girls and boys can provide.

About That Gas . . .

A House subcommittee on conservation and natural resources has forced the Army to admit a public information officer did not tell the truth about the nerve gas incident which killed 6,000 sheep in Utah a little over a year ago.

Congressional investigators learned from Army officials that a poison gas sprayed from a plane was released at a higher altitude than intended and was carried by the wind to a valley where the sheep were grazing.

Repeatedly since the incident occurred in March, 1968, the Army denied that one of its toxic agents being tested at Dugway Proving Grounds was responsible for killing the sheep.

Ramifications from the Army's admission it lied about the accident are impossible to predict. Reckless disregard for the truth in this turbulent age can be tremendously damaging for the nation.

Something positive can come from the House if the issue of open-air testing of poison gases and biological warfare weapons is pursued.

The Army has admitted that other accidents could occur at the test site located just 30 miles from U.S. Highway 40.

Congressional pressure should be brought to bear to eliminate the danger to human life in the test program — especially since the validity of official statements is on the record as being doubtful.

Army Contract

The Army has served notice it is taking a different tack with contractors in the matter of contractural obligations.

Lockheed Aircraft Corporation has felt the wrath of the Army in a cancellation of a contract for a new helicopter gunship.

The Army claims Lockheed defaulted on its contract to develop and produce the AH-56-A Cheyenne — a 250-m.p.h. gunship scheduled for combat in Vietnam.

Secretary of the Army Stanley R. Resor said the Army had agreed to buy 375 of the helicopters at an estimated $875 million. Termination of the agreement came about, according to the Army, because Lockheed failed to meet contract terms.

Lockheed officials took exception to the Army's action and promised to "vigorously contest" the decision.

It could be a long time before the case is settled but the Army's action could have an immediate impact in the field of defense contracts.

Some companies have fine reputations for signing government contracts and delivering quality products in the time specified and within cost limits set by the agreement.

Others have shown little regard for contract terms concerning money or timetables.

If the Army's move in the Cheyenne deal is an indicator that the Nixon administration is going to force contractors to live up to their contracts, then we applaud it.

Entirely too many cases of excessive cost, slipshod workmanship and utter disregard for time limitations have been uncovered in government contract work.

Musings From Max

By MARTIN MILLER

It is hard to remember when and if the military ever had so many critics. Probably the Nye committee munitions investigation in the 1930s comes closest to the present heat on the Pentagon.

All sorts of expensive engineering flubs on tanks, airplanes and other war items running into millions and billions of dollars are being mentioned.

After World War I some official, possibly Charles G. Dawes, was being quizzed about the high price the government paid for brooms or some other item and the official snorted "Hell man, we had a war to win."

Canada better be careful about sending first-time marijuana offenders to wilderness camps where the youths learn basic survival, canoeing, search and rescue and forest-fire fighting. Sounds like fun. Could be a waiting line for sentencing to the camps.

When Charles de Gaulle complained about his vacation bed in Ireland being hard and uncomfortable one of his political foes back in France cracked, "He made his bed now let him lie in it."

Just how far apart President Nixon and the Saigon regime of President Thieu and vice President Ky are on ways to end the Vietnam war is illustrated by President Nixon's call for a political compromise. Thieu and Ky have a whole bunch of non-Communist opponents in jail for advocating the very same thing.

Cartoonist Jules Feiffer, who is not noted for his conservatism, seems to have done an about-face in a cartoon in which he lambastes a hairy student-type youth for using violence "in an attempt to humanize this brutalized society."

The current uproar about the Wolfson Foundation and foundations linked to Las Vegas gambling interests is reminiscent of G. B. Shaw's play "Major Barbara," in which this Salvary Army lass is shocked by a donation of money from her father, an armament manufacturer, and from a whisky distiller. Very amusing play.

And Justice Fortas' resignation from the Supreme Court echoes Plutarch's tale of Julius Caesar: "When asked why he parted with his wife, Caesar replied, "I wished my wife to be not so much as suspected.'" Another way it was said was, "Caesar's wife ought to be above suspicion."

Red China watchers have been busy collecting news sheets put out by the Red Guard. One sold for $1,500. Columbia University has a collection of 500 of them. And wouldn't you know, smarties in Hong Kong started faking them and sometimes only an expert can detect a bogus news sheet.

Back in Stalin's day the Russians used to joke about Pravda (Truth) and Izvestia (News), Russia's two chief newspapers. They said, "There is no news in Truth and no truth in News."

Thoughts

"The Lord is near to all who call upon him, to all who call upon him in truth."—Psalms 145:18.

"God did not intend the human family to be wafted to heaven on flowery beds of ease."—Frank Knox, American publisher.

It's Easy When You Know How!

Appointment Wins Support

By Don Oakley

President Nixon's nomination of Judge Warren E. Burger as new Chief Justice of the United States has pleased Democratic senators from the North. It has not displeased liberal Democrats, at least not to the extent that any of them has offered serious objections.

There is no doubt that it has also pleased the American people, for Burger, as a judge of the U.S. Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia, has become known as a "law and order" man, disturbed by some of the judicial excesses that have been committed in the name of protecting the rights of accused persons.

Burger's qualifications to occupy the central chair on the nation's highest tribunal are undoubted. His personal and professional life is impeccable — something much needed at this time when the court is suffering from the unpalatable circumstances surrounding the resignation of Associate Justice Abe Fortas.

ONLY ONCE in history has the Senate absolutely rejected a chief justice-appointee. This was John Rutledge, who was appointed by George Washington in 1795 and who fell victim to the growing bitterness between the fledgling Federalist and Democratic - Republican parties.

The Senate also rejected John Adams' nomination of John Marshall in 1801, but Adams rejected the rejection and the Senate gave in.

The nomination of Abe Fortas by President Johnson in 1968 was stalled in committee and eventually withdrawn.

The fiercest battle ever to rage over the chief justiceship was the controversy that deadlocked the Senate for two and a half months in 1835, when Andrew Jackson appointed Roger B. Taney to succeed Marshall.

Compared to the turbulent political passions and partisanship of the 18th and 19th centuries, our own time seems positively calm. Burger's confirmation, which the Senate Judiciary Committee will take up early in June, will likely be formal, speedy and unanimous.

Lest anyone expect any dramatic reversal of Supreme Court philosophy in the coming years, it should be noted that Burger is considered to be a - "moderate liberal" on most issues. As for the question of law and order, he has attacked the popular notion that the decline of respect for the law and the rise in crime is the consequence of this or that court decision.

"It would be good if things were that simple," he said in an address at Ripon College two years ago. "If the overruling of one or two opinions would solve the problems of crime, I suspect the Supreme Court would be willing to reconsider."

BUT, HE ADDED, "It is no aid to sensible public discourse to attribute the crime problem to any one decision or any court."

Where we have failed is in the area of rehabilitation, said Burger. We are paying a terrible price for our attitude that criminals are "human rubbish," to be put in warehouses for a period of time, only to have most of them come out of prison and return to their old ways.

Undoubtedly there will be some reconsidering by the Burger court of some of the Warren court's decisions as new cases come before it. But Judge Burger's past statements, characterize him not so much as a hard "law and order" man as a practical humanist.

As such, he is fully in the tradition of all the other great humanists who have brought wisdom and luster to the Supreme Court.

Better Teaching

Most of the cases of student unrest go back a good many years. A bit of history about Columbia will provide an excellent example.

As I noted in a piece recently, the senior faculties there virtually gained control of educational policies about 50 years ago. The major professors, whose security was assured by what is now called "tenure," won the power of appointment, promotion and the determination of what was to be taught and how.

At the same time, a fundamental change was made in the teaching load of the permanent staff. After professors had been assured of permanent tenture, had taught in undergraduate divisions (especially in Columbia College) and had written a book or two, they were promoted to the graduate faculties of political science, philosophy and pure science.

THEIR NEW TEACHING LOADS were generally four hours a week, one two-hour lecture and a seminar. The undergraduates were then left to the relatively inexperienced instructors and assistant professors. The change was made because of the theory that these senior scholars wiuld be more productive — more books and more research.

These light classroom loads certainly provided the happy few with more time on their hands. For the same lecture on the same subject could be given year after year. And a graduate seminar teaches itself because at each session a student would present a paper of his own for discussion. The professors did little but listen and inject an occasional question.

True, as the professors would answer, they had office hours for consultation for students who were writing masters' or doctoral theses. But in practice, as time went on, these office hours most often were neglected rather than kept. Most students writing these essays or dissertations spend only a few hours in the year with their guiding mentors.

As I have indicated, the reason given for these light teaching loads was that there would be more time for research and writing. Here I can speak only on the social sciences in which my own interests lay, but there the output of significant books and written contributions have been far less than in the earlier dispensation which prevailed when I was a student.

For such professors as Charles A. Beard, Franklin Giddings, James Harvey Robinson, Hubert Osgood, John Bassett Moore, Frank Goodnow and E.R.A. Sailingham not only wrote more books but included undergraduates in their classes.

But for the most part, the teaching of undergraduates is still left to untrained and low-paid teachers. These juniors have little or no experience in the classroom. For their graduate training makes no provision for learning the art of teaching.

Nor have these green instructors any background of knowledge to illuminate their lectures or class discussions. Students are like the man who goes to a noted doctor to cure him and finds himself turned over to an intern.

Of course, the students are bored and frustrated when they find themselves forced into a huge class with a novice on the platform. They are shortchanged. They selected a university whose reputation was won long ago by luminous educators but they never see any of these well-known figures.

They might better have gone to a smaller college where there were only undergraduates and the professors were less eminent. And the result is that many students came to be restless, rebellious activists outside the classroom. They blame the administration. They should blame the faculty.

I SPEAK HERE only of Columbia but the same situation prevails in every big institution — Harvard, Cornell, Berkeley, Chicago and elsewhere.

The situation which I describe does not prevail in Barnard College, which has its own president and board of trustees. There the major professors still teach undergraduate courses but some of them also teach graduate courses. So far as Columbia College is concerned, recently the graduate professors are teaching one undergraduate course half a year each year.

The real remedy is not greater participation of students in administration but more teaching by those who are able to interest and inspire those who are really seeking an education.

India Is The Prize

While most Americans have had eyes only for the war in Vietnam, with an occasional glance at the Middle East, a situation which should merit our attention has developed involving the subcontinent of India.

During the past eight years of American involvement in Vietnam, Russia and Red China have become antagonists in a battle for control of India. The danger this poses for the world can readily be seen.

The Soviet Union looks longingly at the tremendous mineral and agricultural resources of India which have been coveted since the days of the czars.

THE KREMLIN RULERS also lick their chops when they contemplate the more than 530 million people of India they would like to gobble up (as an ally, of course). By adding this great manpower source to their own population of more than 210 million, the Russians see themselves as being able to match China's manpower of 750 million people.

The added military bases it could gain near the underside of China would be an added bonus of tremendous value.

It is no wonder that Russia is wooing India with the soft touch — granting loans, helping to build plane and steel plants and shipping arms.

Communist China, on the other hand, is employivg her muscle through inflammatory broadcasts, urging rebellion within India and providing guerilla training for hill tribesmen.

Observers believe China sees India as an economic supply base for the burgeoning population which is expected to reach a billion within 10 years.

Mindful of Red China's conquest of Tibet and the deep penetration of India itself by the Chinese in 1962, members of India's parliament have shown concern over the possibility of war between the two nations.

Although Red China is increasing its pressure on India, there are those who believe it will limit its actions to threats of nuclear bombing and fostering internal rebellion to gain control of the country.

What should be the United States' position with respect to the three nations?

Some of our politicians have declared there should be no more "Vietnams." Some of the campus and street demonstrators have echoed this contention. A segment of the general public also believes this.

WOULD THEIR POSITION be that India also is too far away and too Asian for us to assist? Would they see India as a gargantuan "Vietnam" which would claim millions, not thousands of our soldiers?

Or would the prospect of India falling to Red China as Tibet did in 1950, or to Russia as did the Iron Curtain countries, after their thinking?

There are those who, despite Vietnam, think the United States could not and would not stand aside and permit this to happen.

Americans would do well to direct their thinking to this potentiality. It is not a hypothetical situation. It is a reality.

Russia and China are waging a chess game for world power. India is a pawn. Can the United States be just an observer?

J. A. And The U.S.A.

The district's Junior Achievement organization has completed another year of business operations, its members getting a first hand exposure to the fundamentals of capitalism.

The young men and women have learned some of the problems of investment, production, sales, profits and obligations to customers, shareholders and to themselves.

Theirs has been an invaluable lesson in how the American economy works, and they and other young people across the nation will play an important part in the way it will work in the future.

It is unfortunate more students and sponsors are not involved in these practical applications of our production system. Certainly it needs greater understanding and a flow of new ideas these energetic girls and boys can provide.

About That Gas . . .

A House subcommittee on conservation and natural resources has forced the Army to admit a public information officer did not tell the truth about the nerve gas incident which killed 6,000 sheep in Utah a little over a year ago.

Congressional investigators learned from Army officials that a poison gas sprayed from a plane was released at a higher altitude than intended and was carried by the wind to a valley where the sheep were grazing.

Repeatedly since the incident occurred in March, 1968, the Army denied that one of its toxic agents being tested at Dugway Proving Grounds was responsible for killing the sheep.

Ramifications from the Army's admission it lied about the accident are impossible to predict. Reckless disregard for the truth in this turbulent age can be tremendously damaging for the nation.

Something positive can come from the House if the issue of open-air testing of poison gases and biological warfare weapons is pursued.

The Army has admitted that other accidents could occur at the test site located just 30 miles from U.S. Highway 40.

Congressional pressure should be brought to bear to eliminate the danger to human life in the test program — especially since the validity of official statements is on the record as being doubtful.

Army Contract

The Army has served notice it is taking a different tack with contractors in the matter of contractural obligations.

Lockheed Aircraft Corporation has felt the wrath of the Army in a cancellation of a contract for a new helicopter gunship.

The Army claims Lockheed defaulted on its contract to develop and produce the AH-56-A Cheyenne — a 250-m.p.h. gunship scheduled for combat in Vietnam.

Secretary of the Army Stanley R. Resor said the Army had agreed to buy 375 of the helicopters at an estimated $875 million. Termination of the agreement came about, according to the Army, because Lockheed failed to meet contract terms.

Lockheed officials took exception to the Army's action and promised to "vigorously contest" the decision.

It could be a long time before the case is settled but the Army's action could have an immediate impact in the field of defense contracts.

Some companies have fine reputations for signing government contracts and delivering quality products in the time specified and within cost limits set by the agreement.

Others have shown little regard for contract terms concerning money or timetables.

If the Army's move in the Cheyenne deal is an indicator that the Nixon administration is going to force contractors to live up to their contracts, then we applaud it.

Entirely too many cases of excessive cost, slipshod workmanship and utter disregard for time limitations have been uncovered in government contract work.

Musings From Max

By MARTIN MILLER

It is hard to remember when and if the military ever had so many critics. Probably the Nye committee munitions investigation in the 1930s comes closest to the present heat on the Pentagon.

All sorts of expensive engineering flubs on tanks, airplanes and other war items running into millions and billions of dollars are being mentioned.

After World War I some official, possibly Charles G. Dawes, was being quizzed about the high price the government paid for brooms or some other item and the official snorted, "Hell man, we had a war to win."

Canada better be careful about sending first-time marijuana offenders to wilderness camps where the youths learn basic survival, canoeing, search and rescue and forest-fire fighting. Sounds like fun. Could be a waiting line for sentencing to the camps.

When Charles de Gaulle complained about his vacation bed in Ireland being hard and uncomfortable one of his political foes back in France cracked, "He made his bed now let him lie in it."

Just how far apart President Nixon and the Saigon regime of President Thieu and vice President Ky are on ways to end the Vietnam war is illustrated by President Nixon's call for a political compromise. Thieu and Ky have a whole bunch of non-Communist opponents in jail for advocating the very same thing.

Cartoonist Jules Feiffer, who is not noted for his conservatism, seems to have done an about-face in a cartoon in which he lambastes a hairy student-type youth for using violence "in an attempt to humanize this brutalized society."

The current uproar about the Wolfson Foundation and foundations linked to Las Vegas gambling interests is reminiscent of G. B. Shaw's play "Major Barbara," in which this Salvary Army lass is shocked by a donation of money from her father, an armament manufacturer, and from a whisky distiller. Very amusing play.

And Justice Fortas' resignation from the Supreme Court echoes Plutarch's tale of Julius Caesar: "When asked why he parted with his wife, Caesar replied, "I wished my wife to be not so much as suspected.'" Another way it was said was, "Caesar's wife ought to be above suspicion."

Red China watchers have been busy collecting news sheets put out by the Red Guard. One sold for $1,500. Columbia University has a collection of 500 of them. And wouldn't you know, smarties in Hong Kong started faking them and sometimes only an expert can detect a bogus news sheet.

Back in Stalin's day the Russians used to joke about Pravda (Truth) and Izvestia (News). Russia's two chief newspapers. They said, "There is no news in Truth and no truth in News."

It's Easy When You Know How!

Appointment Wins Support

By Don Oakley

President Nixon's nomination of Judge Warren E. Burger as new Chief Justice of the United States has pleased Democratic senators from the North. It has not displeased liberal Democrats, at least not to the extent that any of them has offered serious objections.

There is no doubt that it has also pleased the American people, for Burger, as a judge of the U.S. Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia, has become known as a "law and order" man, disturbed by some of the judicial excesses that have been committed in the name of protecting the rights of accused persons.

Burger's qualifications to occupy the central chair on the nation's highest tribunal are undoubted. His personal and professional life is impeccable — something much needed at this time when the court is suffering from the unpalatable circumstances surrounding the resignation of Associate Justice Abe Fortas.

ONLY ONCE in history has the Senate absolutely rejected a chief justice-appointee. This was John Rutledge, who was appointed by George Washington in 1795 and who fell victim to the growing bitterness between the fledgling Federalist and Democratic - Republican parties.

The Senate also rejected John Adams' nomination of John Marshall in 1801, but Adams rejected the rejection and the Senate gave in.

The nomination of Abe Fortas by President Johnson in 1968 was stalled in committee and eventually withdrawn.

The fiercest battle ever to rage over the chief justiceship was the controversy that deadlocked the Senate for two and a half months in 1835, when Andrew Jackson appointed Roger B. Taney to succeed Marshall.

Compared to the turbulent political passions and partisanship of the 18th and 19th centuries, our own time seems positively calm. Burger's confirmation, which the Senate Judiciary Committee will take up early in June, will likely be formal, speedy and unanimous.

Lest anyone expect any dramatic reversal of Supreme Court philosophy in the coming years, it should be noted that Burger is considered to be a - "moderate liberal" on most issues. As for the question of law and order, he has attacked the popular notion that the decline of respect for the law and the rise in crime is the consequence of this or that court decision.

"It would be good if things were that simple," he said in an address at Ripon College two years ago. "If the overruling of one or two opinions would solve the problems of crime, I suspect the Supreme Court would be willing to reconsider."

BUT, HE ADDED, "It is no aid to sensible public discourse to attribute the crime problem to any one decision or any court."

About the time the auto hit the utility pole, it turned end-for-end and then came to a halt on its roof, officers said. Debris from the Wolfe car was found scattered the length of the accident area.

Officers said there were no known witnesses to the mishap. The report was based on a reconstruction of physical evidence.

Mrs. Martin was Columbiana County's 10th traffic victim of 1969. At this time in 1968, the fatality count also stood at 10.

Dr. Roy Costello, deputy county coroner, ruled the death "accidental." He said Mrs. Martin died of a broken neck and a fractured skull.

Mrs. Martin was born Feb. 4, 1924, in Richmond, Va., a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jeeter Morris. She has resided in this area for 22 years and was a practical nurse at the East Liverpool Extended Care Center. She last worked four months ago. She belonged to the Calvary United Methodist Church.

Besides her husband, Roy Martin, she leaves a brother, Leon Morris of Chicago, and a sister, Mrs. Lucille Massingale of Richmond.

Services will be held Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. at the Martin Funeral Home by the Rev. H. Dean McElroy. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday afternoon and night.

New Meeting Conducted On School Plan

LISBON — School officials could not bring themselves to delete any offerings from the proposed joint vocational high school program here Sunday and instead proposed adding three or four courses.

The meeting for superintendents and one board member from all school districts in the county except East Liverpool was held in the Lisbon school administration building, with Lisbon Supt. Joe W. Driscoll in charge. East Liverpool chose not to participate in the joint vocation high school study undertaken over a year ago.

Representatives were present from all participating districts except East Palestine, United and Southern.

County Supt. James L. McBride, a member of the study committee, presented new valuation figures for the county. He said a 23-year bond issue to build and operate the school would amount to approximately 3 mills.

The group authorized Driscoll and the study committee to revise the current plan, send copies of the revision to all school districts interested and call another meeting soon to present the plan to all the participating boards.

Supt. Robert Pond of Salem suggested an effort be made to get a film strip of a vocational high school operation and show it at the next meeting so board members can get an idea what can be done.

The committee will seek the approval of the tentative plan by all boards. Members say there is no point in sending the plan to the Ohio Department of Education for approval unless all the district boards are in favor of it.

Laird

sure creating an "act-react syndrome."

"What we ought to do is not so much apply pressure in Vietnam as to instead apply pressure in Paris," the Montana senator said. "That is where peace is going to be made, not on the battlefield."

Mansfield made the comment on CBS' "Face the Nation."

McGovern praised Kennedy Saturday for speaking out "in protest against a truly senseless slaughter" and added, "The only way to end the war in Vietnam is to bring our troops home."

Kennedy followed McGovern to the podium at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner by the New Democratic Coalition and spoke again of what he called the "cruelty and savagery of the past week."

"It would have been immoral," Kennedy said, to remain silent about what he called "an unjustified war, an immoral war."

Laird's position and that of the generals is essentially that a cutback in U.S. "spoiling operations" would invite heavier casualties by relinquishing to the enemy the initiative of when, where and how to strike at passive U.S. positions.

A Pentagon statement contended that small-unit patrolling and reconnaissance, and battalion-size operations which result, "are not, in fact, offensive operations but are an active defense aimed at delaying or altering enemy plans."

It is the Nixon administration's position that, as the Pentagon put it, "casualties have been a product of enemy offensive actions rather than of U.S. or South Vietnamese armed forces actions."

Laird declined to discuss the Dong Ap Bia operation in particular. "We shouldn't try to second guess our commanders after an action has taken place," he said.

The defense secretary said U.S. military commanders "are carrying out to the best of their ability orders prescribed by President Nixon and President Johnson" governing conduct of the war on the ground in Vietnam.

Paper Boat Starts Trip To America

SAFI, Morocco (AP) — "She is really riding well," Thor Heyerdahl reported as he set out for America Sunday in his papyrus boat.

His 15-ton craft made of interlocking reeds and looking like a bright yellow basket with a wine-red sail, dropped a tow line 12 miles from the North African coast and headed west-southwest for the deep-running Canary Islands current.

"She is doing better than I expected," Heyerdahl shouted to a sailboat on which his wife, Yvonne, was a passenger. "She is steering perfectly."

With six companions, Heyerdahl began a voyage he hopes will prove a theory for historians in the same way that his voyage across the Pacific 22 years ago on the raft Kon-Tiki proved the Polynesians could have sailed to Peru.

On this journey, Heyerdahl hopes to demonstrate that a boatload of ancient Egyptians could have taken their culture to the New World 5,000 years ago and influenced the pre-Columbian civilization of the Indians of Mexico and Peru.

Heyerdahl hopes to reach the Yucatan peninsula of Mexico in three or four months.

Many papyrus experts and archeologists doubt the vessel, named the Ra after the Egyptian sun god, will be able to hold up that long. They expect it to become waterlogged and disintegrate.

But the skipper, gray-haired and sharp-eyed at 54, said just before departure: "The boat will float. The problem is how long it will take us to learn to navigate."

If the Ra sinks, there is a life raft aboard.

Reunion Dinner Held By Group

LISBON — Columbiana County farm families who used to meet frequently as the Farm and Home Development Group held a dinner reunion Sunday afternoon at Mt. Nebo Grange.

The group was organized about 20 years ago when Floyd Lower of Lisbon was county extension agent. He attended and spoke briefly.

Also present were Paul H. Gipp, county extension agent for agriculture, and Mrs. Ann Riedel, home economics agent. They discussed anticipated changes in agriculture and homemaking in the next 30 years.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Rudebock and Mr. and Mrs. Perry Arter of Leetonia RD planned the event, which began with a coverdish dinner. Sixty attended.

After dinner, members of the group summarized their work and family growth since the group discontinued regular meetings.

Rudebock presided. Pictures of individual farming operations were shown by Arter, Rudebock and Robert Harold of Knox Township, who specialize in dairy cattle, and Melvin Horst, Columbiana area poultryman. Rudolph Yoder of the Leetonia-Columbiana Rd. showed slides taken at group outings years ago.

chain holding the steel coil, officers said.

The steel coil came to a halt against the pole, which it snapped off. Cowger was charged with spilling cargo on a highway. The mishap was timed at 2:21 a.m.

A woman was taken to City Hospital for X-rays Saturday night after her parked auto was hit from the rear by another car at Pennsylvania Ave. and Erie St.

Patricia Campbell of 952 St. George St. complained of back and neck injuries after her 1962 sedan was struck by a 1960 sedan operated by Ralph W. Wooley, 62, of Rogers RD 1, officers said. Wooley was cited on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

The woman said her auto was parked at the intersection of Pennsylvania Ave. and Erie St. and she had just entered the vehicle when it was struck. Wooley's auto, headed east, hit the Campbell car in the left rear, officers said.

A motorist was cited as an aftermath of a collision on Pennsylvania Ave. at Dewey Ave. Sunday at 4:13 p.m.

The mishap involved a halted 1967 sedan driven by David K. English, 21, of 1118 Perry Ave. and a 1960 sedan operated by William F. Kauffman, 51, of Swickard Dr., Glenmoor. Nancy English, a passenger in the halted car, was treated at City Hospital.

Kauffman, eastbound on Pennsylvania Ave., said he attemped to halt behind the English car, but his auto began to skid on wet pavement. He said he attempted to pull around the English car, but collided with it instead. He was charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

A mishap on W. 5th St. at W. Drury Ln. Saturday at 8:34 p.m. involved a 1967 sedan driven by Olive Scully, 47, of Dairy Ln. and a 1965 sedan operated by Harry C. McElhaney, 19, of Hookstown RD 1.

The Scully auto was leaving the City Hospital parking lot and entering Drury Ln. and the McElhaney auto was pulling away from the toll booth at the Newell Bridge, officers said.

Another mishap was timed at 11:10 p.m. on E. 6th St. at Broadway. It involved a 1968 sedan driven by Joseph A. March, 17, of Center Rd. and a 1963 sedan operated by Loretta M. Nusser of Georgetown RD 1.

March said he was halted for a traffic signal when his car was hit from the rear.

A mishap on W. 6th St. 100 feet west of Crook Alley Saturday at 10:34 p.m. involved a 1957 sedan driven by Patricia A. Englert, 21, of 433 Thompson Ave. and a parked 1968 sedan owned by East Liverpool Central Service of W. 7th St. The young woman said she was backing into a parking spot on W. 6th St. when her brakes failed.

Two Injured As Auto Hits Utility Pole

A Homeworth area man and girl were severely injured when their car veered off the highway and slammed into a utility pole in the western part of Columbiana County early this morning.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon, which investigated two other district mishaps over the weekend, said both were rushed to Alliance City Hospital.

David Lee Matz, 27, and Ali T. Matz, 18, both of Route 153 near Homeworth, were injured in the 12:40 a.m. mishap.

Officers said Matz was headed south on County Rd. 404 some two miles south of Route 62 when he apparently fell asleep and the car went onto the berm.

The 1969 coach skidded back onto the highway, went off the east edge, hit an embankment, then rolled over and struck the utility pole, coming to rest on the shattered pole. The auto was demolished.

Mrs. Vera Valentine, 47, of 1715 St. Clair Ave. escaped serious injury when her 1963 station wagon struck a utility pole along Route 45 about a half-mile south of Salem Sunday morning at 10:45 a.m.

Officers said she was headed north when the right front tire blew out and she lost control of the vehicle.

A 1966 truck operated by John Talbot, 45, of West Point was damaged when it overturned on a township road near West Point Saturday.

Talbot was headed south on Township Rd. 1149 at 3:25 p.m. and attempted to slow for the intersection with Route 30. He lost control of the truck on the gravel roadway, and it turned over on its side.

Coup

army chief of staff, was reported on the run but later announced he had given himself up.

The new premier said in a broadcast to the nation that his regime is determined to do away with "bickering political parties" and set Sudan "on the road to freedom and socialism."

"We now stand on the threshold of a crucial stage in our bitter struggle against reaction and imperialism to liberate ourselves from the nightmare of partisanship," Awadallah said.

He promised to seek a fair solution to the bloody civil war between the dominant Arab Moslems in the northern part of the nation and the black African pagans and Christians in the south.

Awadallah also said his government would work to strengthen relations with Sudan's northern neighbor, Egypt, and other "progressive" Arab states.

The coup was the third takeover of the government since Sudan gained independence from a British-Egyptian administration in 1956.

Sudan, with an area of 977,000 square miles, is the largest nation on the African continent. It has a population of 14 million. The death toll in the civil war has been estimated at 500,000 to a million. Half a million southerners are believed to have fled to neighboring countries because of the war.

about 18 miles east of the Laotian border and 10 miles below the Demilitarized Zone.

Dubbed Operation Herkimer Mountain, it has produced little significant results since it was launched May 9. The U.S. Command reported 29 North Vietnamese killed and said U.S. casualties have been two killed and 32 wounded.

The U.S. Command also reported 26 enemy rocket and mortar attacks Sunday night but said only 10 caused casualties or damage and these were light. The Command also reported two more American helicopters shot down, with seven Americans wounded. This raised to 2,678 the number of American helicopters reported lost in the war.

Allied sources reported today that casualties in the war last week included about 300 Americans, 413 South Vietnamese and 4,000 of the enemy, according to preliminary reports.

As the controversy in the United States over American casualties continued, the U.S. Command in Saigon announced that more than 40 of the enemy were killed for every allied soldier during a 24-hour period of the weekend. But battlefield reports gave a ratio Saturday and Sunday of 24 to one, with 436 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese, 12 Americans and six South Vietnamese killed. Another 105 Americans and 16 South Vietnamese were wounded.

The overall ratio for the casualties reported for last week was nearly 6 enemy to 1 allied soldier. This was somewhat less than the ratio of 7 or 8 to 1 that has prevailed in recent weeks, but the figures made available today are incomplete and may be revised by the time the weekly summary is issued Thursday.

Wooden Siding Lasts With Care

Wooden siding will last a long time if cared for; it will last a long time even with a little neglect.

But in the latter case small defects might develop which could lead to more serious trouble later on.

A frequent inspection of siding will prevent trouble. Look for cracks, splitting boards. Notice if boards are warped or loose. Look for open joints.

These will permit moisture to enter, causing paint to peel and eventually causing the siding to rot.

CRACKS are easy to repair when they are small. If taken care of, there may be no need to replace lengths of siding later on.

Small cracks can be filled with calking compound or putty (white lead variety). Use enough and pack it in.

With the cracks filled, make certain that the edge of the board is tight against the one below. If the board is loose, nail it down. Since old siding may split, drill pilot holes for the nails first. When you have the board nailed down as tight as possible, calk if any space remains.

Countersink the nail heads below the surface and fill the remaining tiny holes with putty.

Sometimes it is too late to make minor repairs. If any siding is badly split or rotted, then it must be replaced. The easiest and neatest way to repair is to remove an entire length of siding and replace it.

If this isn't possible, you will have to cut out the bad piece of siding, being careful not to damage the good siding above and below it.

REMOVAL will be easier if you pry up the board before you try cutting it. Drive wedges underneath to lift it. Then cut through the board with a handsaw. A block fastened to the board below right under the saw will prevent damage to the good wood.

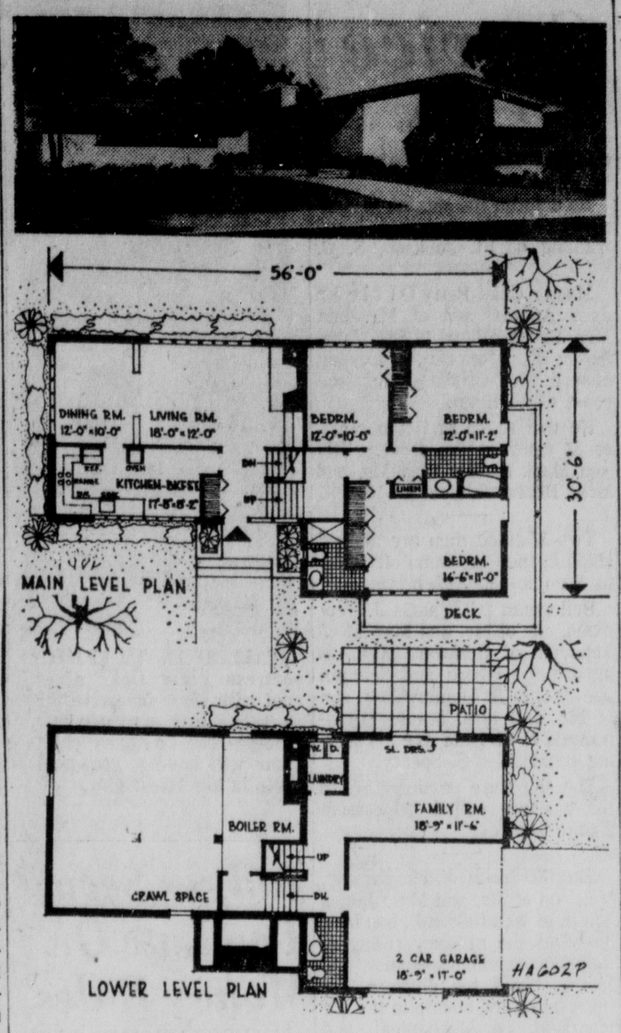

With the board cut, drive wedges under the board above. Then get a grip on the cut board and pry it out, splitting it away in sections.

If this is too difficult, you can break it out with a hammer and chisel. But be careful of the board underneath.

If a small strip of wood remains under the piece of siding above, it can be removed by first cutting the nails holding it with a hack saw. Then dig out the strip.

Cut a new piece of siding so that it matches the old exactly. Drive it gently into place, placing a block of wood against the lower edge before hammering.

With the new siding in place, nail it down with a few nails along the lower edge. Set these and cover with putty. Paint to match and the job is done.

A MODEST spilt-level has been given the appearance of a rambling, spacious house on the outside and a roomy, comfortable place to live inside. It looks big with its soaring gable and deck. The 1,475 square feet in the living and bedroom levels are sufficient for good living. The lower level has 715 additional square feet. The efficient kitchen is conveniently located off the dining room and can be entered from the foyer. The bedroom level is separated from the rest of the house and closets and bathroom act as sound buffers between the bedrooms. Down half a flight from the foyer is the family room. There are lots of expanses of glass, making HA602P a sunny, cheerful home. Architect is Samuel Paul, 89-30 161st St., Jamaica, N. Y.

You Should Clean Brush Right After Painting Job

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

You'd never have to work another day if you had all the money that is wasted by do-it-yourselfers in failing to take proper care of paint brushes.

It's a common practice for a home owner to use a paint brush a single time and then throw it away. Not because he wants to, but because it has become useless due to his failure to clean it properly.

Think now, how many of you have paint brushes in the basement or workshop which are as hard as rocks or completely out of shape or both? They'll stay that way until it's time for the next paint job. Then you'll look at them in disgust, decide it's too much trouble to restore them to usefulness and go out and buy a new brush.

A few of you, using a chemical brush cleaner, will bring them back to some semblance of life, utilizing time that could have been spent in the actual painting.

All of this can be avoided by taking a few extra moments to clean a brush as soon as you have finished using it.

Clean it with the right solvent, which means turpentine or mineral spirits for oil paints, enamel or varnish; water for water-base, rubber - base or latex paints; lacquer thinner for lacquer; denatured alcohol for shellac; and whatever solvent is recommended on the lable of certain special finishing materials.

Regardless of whether the brush is being used the next day or at some indefinite ime in the future, it never should be placed in any position that will cause the bristles to bend.

When the brush is not likely to be used again for a long period, it should be washed with a mild detergent and water after cleaning with the solvent. It should then be wrapped in foil, wax paper, oil cloh or any similar type of wrapping.

You sometimes may hear a person say that it is better to buy an inexpensive brush and discard it after using it a few times than to buy a higher-priced brush that is used only a couple of times a year.

This theory overlooks the fact hat a good quality brush picks up more paint and thus requires less effort in dipping, that it spreads the paint more smoothly, that it sheds less and that it generally produces a better all - around performance.

For large, flat surfaces, a 4-inch brush is about right. A trim or sash brush, about 2 inches wide, is best for woodwork, paneling and trim.

A flat or oval sash brush from 1 to 3 inches in width is good for sashes, trellises and things of that nature. Flat varnish or enameling brushes, which are chiseled to permit eier flowing, are excellent for furniture, toys and objects with small, flat surfaces. Chair rungs, table legs and the like are handled better with the narrowest-size sash brush available.

Binding Definition

LONDON (AP) — A binding legal definition of Scotch whisky is included in a new government regulation. It describes the stuff as "spirits distilled from cereal mash at less than 166.4 degrees proof in such a way that the distillate has an aroma and flavor derived from the materials used, and matured in wooden casks in a warehouse for at least three years."

Ideas Offered On Problems

AP Newsfeatures

Q. — I just bought a second-hand metal filing cabinet. It is quite old, and the coat of green paint on it is in pretty bad shape. I'd like to repaint it. Do I have to take off the old coat of paint?

A. — No. Clean it with soap and water and dry thoroughly. If there is anv semblance of gloss on it, dull the finish bv rubbing lightly with steel wool. Use a metal paint. One coat probably will cover unless you're using a light color.

Q. — WE'RE thinking of buying an attic fan. Where is the best place to install it?

A.—The most commonly used place for installing an attic fan is in a horizontal position above an opening in the ceiling. This is usually in a central location such as a hall. A wood frame is installed in the attic around the ceiling opening, with the fan placed on felt strips placed to the frame. Automatic shutters are installed below the fan on the ceiling so that when they are opened, the fan runs and when they are closed, the fan stops.

However, there are several other places where such fans can be installed, including on an attic wall, so it's a good idea to accept the judgment of the installer. If you are doing the job yourself, talk it over with your dealer, giving him a detailed description of your house, including its overall dimensions.

Q. — HOW do you cut through b-x cable without damaging the insulation around the wires?

A. — Cut through the metal at a 45-degree angle. Stop when the blade breaks through; that is, when the space inside the armor is visible. Use short strokes so as to make sure the saw does not go too far. Once the cut has been made, bend the armor up and down until it breaks. The underside of the armor can then be broken by a pulling, twisting motion.

Q. — IS THERE a way to get a blonde mahogany finish or is it something that can be done only by a professional at a factory?

A. — The bare would should be given two applications of prepared bleach, available at most hardware stores, lumber yards or paint dealers. Follow instructions about rinsing. When dry, sand lightly and remove all particles of grit. Apply a coat of sealer. When that is dry, apply two finish coats of varnish.

When it is desired to remove the textured appearance of woods such as mahogany, a wood filler should be used between the coat of sealer and the finish coat.

Paint Helps Brighten Concrete And Masonry

Paint is the magic way to transform dull, gray concrete and other masonry surfaces into colorful, more attractive surfaces.

Basements, garages and laundry rooms all can be made into more pleasant working areas with a little effort. Beautifying these areas is only one reason for painting — it also makes masonry surfaces easier to clean and protects the surface from moisture, harmful chemicals and abrasives.

There is a wide choice of paints for masonry surfaces available, so check with your paint dealer to make sure you choose the right paint for your project.

In selecting a paint, you must consider the alkali present in most masonry, whether concrete, mortar between bricks, stone mortar, cinder and concrete block or stucco. Among the paints to consider are: Latex paints (those designed for masonry surfaces). One advantage of using a latex paint is the surface need not be absolutely dry. In fact, it should be slightly dampened before applying the first coat.

Portland cement powder paint should be applied to damp surfaces which must be kept damp until the cement in the paint matures (48-72 hours). These do not make a good base for other types of paint. Oil base stucco and masonry paints are most successful when concrete and adjacent wood trim are to be painted the same color. Solvent - thinned rubber - base paints, available in a wide range of colors, are ideal for concrete basement and porch floors, swimming pools and walks exposed to weather.

Bituminous coatings are used primarily below grade to water proof outside walls and for sealing before concrete floors are laid. They are excellent in their resistance to water penetration.

Keep in mind the purpose of the painting, the condition of the surface and the expected exposure should influence your choice of paints. Consult your local paint dealer for help in selecting the proper paint for your project.

Before starting to paint, check the following areas. If concrete, other masonry material or the mortar is well aged (One to two years exposed to weather). Chances are that most of the alkali has been washed out or neutralized by the atmosphere. If the surface has been previously painted, the paint is in fair condition, use a wirebrush to remove loose material such as dirt.

If the surface is to be repainted and you plan to use a water-thinned coating a surface conditional should be used first. Before applying the surface conditioner, check to make certain that the old paint is not excessively chalked or flaking. A penetrating sealer or masonry conditioner, available from your paint dealer may be indicated. If a water - thinned paint is used in contact with metal, stains may develop.

THUS, IRON, copper or other metallic objects, such as nails, imbedded in the masonry surface or adjacent to it should be primed with good anti-corrosive primer before painting.

Keep in mind the success of your painting job will depend on how well you prepare the surface. First, clean that surface. This applies whether the surface is old or new. Use a wire brush to remove all dirt, loose particles and other extraneous materials which might interfere with paint adhesion.

Once you discover just how appealing paint can make masonry surfaces, you'll want to transorm all the masonry surfaces in your home into more colorful, attractive areas.

'Missing' Auto Found; Pranksters Suspected

A 1955 model auto reported early Sunday later was found in a garage in the same area and police were advised the car's disappearance probably was the work of pranksters.

Registered to Mrs. Beulah M. Franklin of Post Office Box 243, the two-door hardtop was reported stolen between 12:05 and 12:30 yesterday morning. The owner's son found the car in a garage and advised officers the whole thing probably was a practical joke played by his fellow members of the high school senior class.

Meanwhile, a 1966 two-door sedan which Fleming Gordon of 1838 Anderson Blvd. reported stolen from his home between 10:30 p.m. Friday and 7 a.m. Saturday was found on Park Way near Anderson Blvd. at 8:21 a.m. Saturday by Patrolman Jack Strobel, police said.

Money For Mallaig

MALLAIG, Scotland (AP) — The picturesque harbor at Mallaig, one of the busiest herring fishing ports in Britain and a principal gateway to the Hebridean Islands off Western Scotland, is to be improved at a cost of 400,000 pounds ($960,000).

Tips Offered On Bathroom

The average bathroom installed 10 years ago was 5 by 7 feet and had little more than a tub, lavatory and water closet.

Today, it's more likely to be 7 by 8 or 7 by 10, and there's a wide choice of equipment.

If you're planning to add or remodel a bathroom, the following are the beauty and convenience features available to you according to the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau of Chicago:

1. — Vanity lavatories — bowls sunk into generous countertops, with storage space beneath. The trend is to two-bowl types.

2. — Off - the - floor water closets that make cleaning the floor easier.

3. — Bidget. This personal hygiene device looks like a water closet and is usually installed next to it.

4. — Greatly improved faucets that are virtually leakproof.

5. — Showerheads that can be adjusted to different heights according to the size of the bather.

6. — Shower controls that enable you to pre-set the water temperature before turning it on. The water then remains at that temperature regardless of pressure changes. Sudden surges of icy cold or scalding hot water ar no more.

7. — Tubs that are skid-resistant, have built-in soap dishes and grab bars.

It's wise to buy quality products, since the bathroom is used more than anything else in the home. It's also wise to deal with a plumbing contractor who handles the complete remodeling job.

He'll help you plan the decor, select your equipment and have all the plumbing, tiling, electrical wiring, etc., done by his men or his own subcontractors. That way you have to deal with only one trade instead of several. Furthermore, since he schedules everyone involved in the job, he'll get it done with dispatch.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I go about cleaning all - fiberglass luggage, which is of the type that has no additional covering?

A. — By wiping with a damp cloth. And any scratches that might be present can usually be smoothed out by the careful use of fine steel wool.

Q. — How can I prevent mold and mildew in dresser drawers, clothes and linen closets and other such storage places?

A. — By keeping a few pieces of chalk in these places. This is also good to use wherever shoes and leather goods are kept.

If You Want Best Results, Paint Down!

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

There are probably 10 or 12 important rules about painting, such as not painting on a damp or dirty surface, not painting when the temperature is below 40 degrees or is exremely hot and not applying a second coat until the first is thoroughly dry.

But it is doubtful if any of them is more important than the rule which says always paint down.

It is quite evident to the average person that painting down makes good sense. In the first place, paint will naturally flow downward, which means that the painter has a chance to smooth out drips as he goes lower.

Secondly, there is always a chance that applying one color to a house well above a different color will result in a thousand spots on the lower work.

Another excellent reason is that painting is hard work, and the hardest part is the higher work. For this reason the tough part of the job should be done while you are fresh and at your best. Painting a wall while you are comfortably on your feet is easy.

The average house job should start with the gutters, then the trim immediately beneath and then the large wall area. Corner boards, windows and door trim, on which you use a smaller brush, can well be left to the last.

Naturally, there are times when painting cannot be done in the best of approved procedures as in the case of agutter needing another coat after the wall is finished.

In this case, the answer is to tack drip cloths over the area beneath the new painting. It takes about two minutes to seures, as in the case of a gutter tacks, and it might take you hours to undo a lot of drip.

Chat With Wife

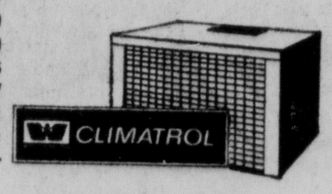

LONDON (AP) — A recipe for avoiding marital strife was given by Judge Sir Neville Faulks in London's divorce court. Husbands, he said, should spend more time chatting with their wives—"women have to be talked to and made much of when men come home in the evening."

"The earth is starting to get bigger," Stafford said. "It's a great sight down there and we're all looking forward to splashdown."

"We'll see you back on the good earth very soon," Young added.

They even shaved for the occasion—the first spacemen to do so. They exhibited their cleanshaven chins on television and reported they used ordinary razors and brushless cream from a tube.

"This is a remarkable innovation," said Young. "After spending a lot of money on mechanical shavers which always managed to leave whiskers flying around the atmosphere, somebody finally came up with the idea using a razor and brushless shaving cream."

The cream held the whiskers, he said, and kept them from floating in the weightless cabin. The cream was wiped off the razor with a towel.

"That's one of the most refreshing things that's happened in the last couple days," Cernan said.

point where the car finally halted.

About the time the auto hit the utility pole, it turned end-for-end and then came to a halt on its roof, officers said. Debris from the Wolfe car was found scattered the length of the accident area.

Officers said there were no known witnesses to the mishap. The report was based on a reconstruction of physical evidence.

Mrs. Martin was Columbiana County's 10th traffic victim of 1969. At this time in 1968, the fatality count also stood at 10.

Dr. Roy Costello, deputy county coroner, ruled the death "accidental." He said Mrs. Martin died of a broken neck and a fractured skull.

Mrs. Martin was born Feb. 4, 1924, in Richmond, Va., a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jeeter Morris. She has resided in this area for 22 years and was a practical nurse at the East Liverpool Extended Care Center. She last worked four months ago. She belonged to the Calvary United Methodist Church.

New Meeting Conducted On School Plan

LISBON — School officials could not bring themselves to delete any offerings from the proposed joint vocational high school program here Sunday and instead proposed adding three or four courses.

The meeting for superintendents and one board member from all school districts in the county except East Liverpool was held in the Lisbon school administration building, with Lisbon Supt. Joe W. Driscoll in charge. East Liverpool chose not to participate in the joint vocation high school study undertaken over a year ago.

Representatives were present from all participating districts except East Palestine, United and Southern.

County Supt. James L. McBride, a member of the study committee, presented new valuation figures for the county. He said a 23-year bond issue to build and operate the school would amount to approximately 3 mills.

The group authorized Driscoll and the study committee to revise the current plan, send copies of the revision to all school districts interested and call another meeting soon to present the plan to all the participating boards.

Supt. Robert Pond of Salem suggested an effort be made to get a film strip of a vocational high school operation and show it at the next meeting so board members can get an idea what can be done.

The committee will seek the approval of the tentative plan by all boards. Members say there is no point in sending the plan to the Ohio Department of Education for approval unless all the district boards are in favor of it.

sure creating an "act-react syndrome."

"What we ought to do is not so much apply pressure in Vietnam as to instead apply pressure in Paris," the Montana senator said. "That is where peace is going to be made, not on the battlefield."

Mansfield made the comment on CBS' "Face the Nation."

McGovern praised Kennedy Saturday for speaking out "in protest against a truly senseless slaughter" and added, "The only way to end the war in Vietnam is to bring our troops home."

Kennedy followed McGovern to the podium at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner by the New Democratic Coalition and spoke again of what he called the "cruelty and savagery of the past week."

"It would have been immoral," Kennedy said, to remain silent about what he called "an unjustified war, an immoral war."

Laird's position and that of the generals is essentially that a cutback in U.S. "spoiling operations" would invite heavier casualties by relinquishing to the enemy the initiative of when, where and how to strike at passive U.S. positions.

A Pentagon statement contended that small-unit patrolling and reconnaissance, and battalion-size operations which result, "are not, in fact, offensive operations but are an active defense aimed at delaying or altering enemy plans."

It is the Nixon administration's position that, as the Pentagon put it, "casualties have been a product of enemy offensive actions rather than of U.S. or South Vietnamese armed forces actions."

Laird declined to discuss the Dong Ap Bia operation in particular. "We shouldn't try to second guess our commanders after an action has taken place," he said.

The defense secretary said U.S. military commanders "are carrying out to the best of their ability orders prescribed by President Nixon and President Johnson" governing conduct of the war on the ground in Vietnam.

Paper Boat Starts Trip To America

SAFI, Morocco (AP) — "She is really riding well," Thor Heyerdahl reported as he set out for America Sunday in his papyrus boat.

His 15-ton craft made of interlocking reeds and looking like a bright yellow basket with a wine-red sail, dropped a tow line 12 miles from the North African coast and headed west-southwest for the deep-running Canary Islands current.

"She is doing better than I expected," Heyerdahl shouted to a sailboat on which his wife, Yvonne, was a passenger. "She is steering perfectly."

With six companions, Heyerdahl began a voyage he hopes will prove a theory for historians in the same way that his voyage across the Pacific 22 years ago on the raft Kon-Tiki proved the Polynesians could have sailed to Peru.

On this journey, Heyerdahl hopes to demonstrate that a boatload of ancient Egyptians could have taken their culture to the New World 5,000 years ago and influenced the pre-Columbian civilization of the Indians of Mexico and Peru.

Heyerdahl hopes to reach the Yucatan peninsula of Mexico in three or four months.

Many papyrus experts and archeologists doubt the vessel, named the Ra after the Egyptian sun god, will be able to hold up that long. They expect it to become waterlogged and disintegrate.

But the skipper, gray-haired and sharp-eyed at 54, said just before departure: "The boat will float. The problem is how long it will take us to learn to navigate."

If the Ra sinks, there is a life raft aboard.

Reunion Dinner Held By Group

LISBON — Columbiana County farm families who used to meet frequently as the Farm and Home Development Group held a dinner reunion Sunday afternoon at Mt. Nebo Grange.

The group was organized about 20 years ago when Floyd Lower of Lisbon was county extension agent. He attended and spoke briefly.

Also present were Paul H. Gipp, county extension agent for agriculture, and Mrs. Ann Riedel, home economics agent. They discussed anticipated changes in agriculture and homemaking in the next 30 years.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Rudebock and Mr. and Mrs. Perry Arter of Leetonia RD planned the event, which began with a coverdish dinner. Sixty attended.

After dinner, members of the group summarized their work and family growth since the group discontinued regular meetings.

Rudebock presided. Pictures of individual farming operations were shown by Arter, Rudebock and Robert Harold of Knox Township, who specialize in dairy cattle, and Melvin Horst, Columbiana area poultryman. Rudolph Yoder of the Leetonia-Columbiana Rd. showed slides taken at group outings years ago.

A woman was taken to City Hospital for X-rays Saturday night after her parked auto was hit from the rear by another car at Pennsylvania Ave. and Erie St.

Patricia Campbell of 952 St. George St. complained of back and neck injuries after her 1962 sedan was struck by a 1960 sedan operated by Ralph W. Wooley, 62, of Rogers RD 1, officers said. Wooley was cited on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

The woman said her auto was parked at the intersection of Pennsylvania Ave. and Erie St. and she had just entered the vehicle when it was struck. Wooley's auto, headed east, hit the Campbell car in the left rear, officers said.

A motorist was cited as an aftermath of a collision on Pennsylvania Ave. at Dewey Ave. Sunday at 4:13 p.m.

The mishap involved a halted 1967 sedan driven by David K. English, 21, of 1118 Perry Ave. and a 1960 sedan operated by William F. Kauffman, 51, of Swickard Dr., Glenmoor. Nancy English, a passenger in the halted car, was treated at City Hospital.

Kauffman, eastbound on Pennsylvania Ave., said he attemped to halt behind the English car, but his auto began to skid on wet pavement. He said he attempted to pull around the English car, but collided with it instead. He was charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

A mishap on W. 5th St. at W. Drury Ln. Saturday at 8:34 p.m. involved a 1967 sedan driven by Olive Scully, 47, of Dairy Ln. and a 1965 sedan operated by Harry C. McElhaney, 19, of Hookstown RD 1.

Two Injured As Auto Hits Utility Pole

A Homeworth area man and girl were severely injured when their car veered off the highway and slammed into a utility pole in the western part of Columbiana County early this morning.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon, which investigated two other district mishaps over the weekend, said both were rushed to Alliance City Hospital.

David Lee Matz, 27, and Ali T. Matz, 18, both of Route 153 near Homeworth, were injured in the 12:40 a.m. mishap.

Officers said Matz was headed south on County Rd. 404 some two miles south of Route 62 when he apparently fell asleep and the car went onto the berm.

The 1969 coach skidded back onto the highway, went off the east edge, hit an embankment, then rolled over and struck the utility pole, coming to rest on the shattered pole. The auto was demolished.

Mrs. Vera Valentine, 47, of 1715 St. Clair Ave. escaped serious injury when her 1963 station wagon struck a utility pole along Route 45 about a half-mile south of Salem Sunday morning at 10:45 a.m.

Officers said she was headed north when the right front tire blew out and she lost control of the vehicle.

A 1966 truck operated by John Talbot, 45, of West Point was damaged when it overturned on a township road near West Point Saturday.

Talbot was headed south on Township Rd. 1149 at 3:25 p.m. and attempted to slow for the intersection with Route 30. He lost control of the truck on the gravel roadway, and it turned over on its side.

Coup

army chief of staff, was reported on the run but later announced he had given himself up.

The new premier said in a broadcast to the nation that his regime is determined to do away with "bickering political parties" and set Sudan "on the road to freedom and socialism."

"We now stand on the threshold of a crucial stage in our bitter struggle against reaction and imperialism to liberate ourselves from the nightmare of partisanship," Awadallah said.

He promised to seek a fair solution to the bloody civil war between the dominant Arab Moslems in the northern part of the nation and the black African pagans and Christians in the south.

Awadallah also said his government would work to strengthen relations with Sudan's northern neighbor, Egypt, and other "progressive" Arab states.

The coup was the third takeover of the government since Sudan gained independence from a British-Egyptian administration in 1956.

Sudan, with an area of 977,000 square miles, is the largest nation on the African continent. It has a population of 14 million. The death toll in the civil war has been estimated at 500,000 to a million. Half a million southerners are believed to have fled to neighboring countries because of the war.

about 18 miles east of the Laotian border and 10 miles below the Demilitarized Zone.

Dubbed Operation Herkimer Mountain, it has produced little significant results since it was launched May 9. The U.S. Command reported 29 North Vietnamese killed and said U.S. casualties have been two killed and 32 wounded.

The U.S. Command also reported 26 enemy rocket and mortar attacks Sunday night but said only 10 caused casualties or damage and these were light. The Command also reported two more American helicopters shot down, with seven Americans wounded. This raised to 2,678 the number of American helicopters reported lost in the war.

March said he was halted for a traffic signal when his car was hit from the rear.

Allied sources reported today that casualties in the war last week included about 300 Americans, 413 South Vietnamese and 4,000 of the enemy, according to preliminary reports.

As the controversy in the United States over American casualties continued, the U.S. Command in Saigon announced that more than 40 of the enemy were killed for every allied soldier during a 24-hour period of the weekend. But battlefield reports gave a ratio Saturday and Sunday of 24 to one, with 436 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese, 12 Americans and six South Vietnamese killed. Another 105 Americans and 16 South Vietnamese were wounded.

The kill ratio for the casualties reported for last week was nearly 6 enemy to 1 allied soldier. This was somewhat less than the ratio of 7 or 8 to 1 that has prevailed in recent weeks, but the figures made available today are incomplete and may be revised by the time the weekly summary is issued Thursday.

Snoring is sleeping out loud . . . A condition brought on by nose obstructions, forcing one to breathe through the mouth. It is caused by vibrations of a cone-shaped organ (UVULA) that hangs down from the roof of the mouth.

Judges Seen Too Late On Money Rules

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's leading federal judges, moving hastily to draft their own rules for off-the-bench behavior and possibly financial disclosure, have drawn a stern warning that they're too late.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield said Sunday judges, as well as lawmakers and members of the executive branch, should be covered by the same laws. He promised to support one that would require disclosing both outside payments and business connections.

Mansfield replied with a blunt "no" when asked if he would be willing to accept a code for self-policing by the judiciary itself.

"I think they are late and we are late in facing up to this problem," he added.

Only a day before Mansfield spoke, Chief Justice Earl Warren called a special meeting of the Judicial Conference for June 10 to consider judges' nonjudicial activites and, possibly, financial disclosure rules.

The conference was called after its committee on Court Administration met in secret for five hours Saturday to discuss the matter.

The conference normally would not meet until the fall, so the special session appeared to be an attempt to head off, or at least influence the nature of, disclosure laws which Congress might pass. Its members are 25 judges, with the chief justice as chairman.

Mansfield specifically rejected leaving the judges to police themselves. Even tightening up confirmation procedures in the Senate, then leaving the problems to a judicial council of some type doesn't go far enough, he said.

A financial disclosure law, he said, should apply to everyone in the federal government who make more than $18,000 a year. Such a cutoff line would include everyone down to the top levels of Civil Service ratings.

Vote Switching Seen

GOP Leaders Predict Victory In ABM Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — After weeks of selling, the Nixon administration now believes it has the commitments necessary for Senate approval of the Safeguard antimissile system.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said in an interview he is confident "the votes will be there" when the issue comes before the Senate, possibly next month.

Although Dirksen said he knows of two switches among Republicans who came out early against ABM but have had second thoughts, he declined to mention any names or to deal in numbers.

He declined also to name any of those who had switched from the uncommitted column to the administration side.

"This is a delicate matter and I'm not going to put anybody on the spot," Dirksen said.

The administration's previous poll showed 44 senators committedto vote for Safeguard, but 46 committed against. That meant it needed six more votes, plus that of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, who can vote only if there is a tie, if all Senator answer a roll call.

But the Senate seldom marshals all of its members for such votes. Illness or prior commitments often keep some away. If a couple of GOP opponents found it convenient to be absent, the administration would regard that action as satisfactory.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana seemed to have some such situation in mind when he said in a weekend interview that if the administration puts on pressure it could win by a margin of one to three votes.

Despite Mansfield's contention that this might be a Pyrrhic victory—worth less than it cost—the administration's attitude appears to be that it will take any kind of victory it can get. Mansfield has opposed ABM.

Sen. Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa., an ABM critic, said in a Pennsylvania broadcast Sunday he had felt some White House pressure to change his stance but "it has been within bounds and quite reasonable" so far.

"I suspect it will get a little bit hotter as the June deadline rolls around," he said.

Sen. Hugh Scott, the assistant GOP Leader and a Safeguard backer, said no one would dare to try to put pressure on most Senators.

He said he would be a little happier politically if he were on the "anti" side. He reported 6,000 letters opposing ABM and only a few hundred supporting it. But he said the situation could change.

"If we get to vote on it in June, much may depend on the last things the President says and the last things the ranking committee members say about it," he said.

BLANCHESTER, Ohio (AP) — The body of Leon Stephens of Blanchester was recovered from a farm pond near here Sunday after his attempts to swim across the water failed and he went under.

Friends said that they and the 14-year-old boy were fishing when Leon decided to try and make it across the half-acre wide pond. Their efforts to save him were fruitless.

Wooden Siding Lasts With Care

Wooden siding will last a long time if cared for; it will last a long time even with a little neglect.

But in the latter case small defects might develop which could lead to more serious trouble later on.

A frequent inspection of siding will prevent trouble. Look for cracks, splitting boards. Notice if boards are warped or loose. Look for open joints.

These will permit moisture to enter, causing paint to peel and eventually causing the siding to rot.

CRACKS are easy to repair when they are small. If taken care of, there may be no need to replace lengths of siding later on.

Small cracks can be filled with calking compound or putty (white lead variety). Use enough and pack it in.

With the cracks filled, make certain that the edge of the board is tight against the one below. If the board is loose, nail it down. Since old siding may split, drill pilot holes for the nails first. When you have the board nailed down as tight as possible, calk if any space remains.

Countersink the nail heads below the surface and fill the remaining tiny holes with putty.

Sometimes it is too late to make minor repairs. If any siding is badly split or rotted, then it must be replaced. The easiest and neatest way to repair is to remove an entire length of siding and replace it.

If this isn't possible, you will have to cut out the bad piece of siding, being careful not to damage the good siding above and below it.

REMOVAL will be easier if you pry up the board before you try cutting it. Drive wedges underneath to lift it. Then cut through the board with a handsaw. A block fastened to the board below right under the saw will prevent damage to the good wood.

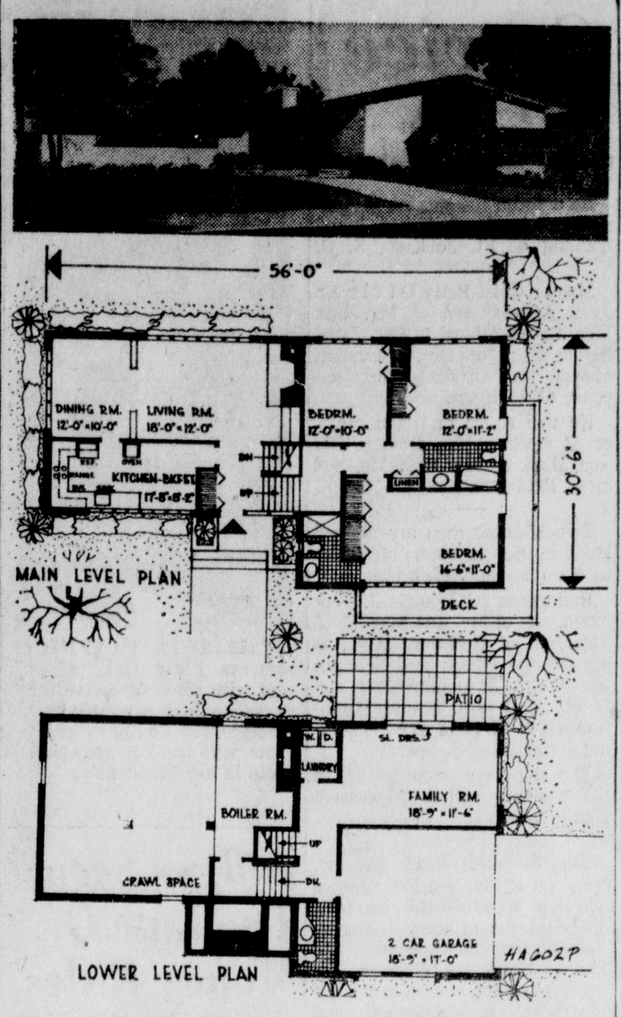

With the board cut, drive wedges under the board above. Then get a grip on the cut board and pry it out, splitting it away in sections.

If this is too difficult, you can break it out with a hammer and chisel. But be careful of the board underneath.

If a small strip of wood remains under the piece of siding above, it can be removed by first cutting the nails holding it with a hack saw. Then dig out the strip.

Cut a new piece of siding so that it matches the old exactly. Drive it gently into place, placing a block of wood against the lower edge before hammering.

With the new siding in place, nail it down with a few nails along the lower edge. Set these and cover with putty. Paint to match and the job is done.

A MODEST spilt-level has been given the appearance of a rambling, spacious house on the outside and a roomy, comfortable place to live inside. It looks big with its soaring gable and deck. The 1,475 square feet in the living and bedroom levels are sufficient for good living. The lower level has 715 additional square feet. The efficient kitchen is conveniently located off the dining room and can be entered from the foyer. The bedroom level is separated from the rest of the house and closets and bathroom act as sound buffers between the bedrooms. Down half a flight from the foyer is the family room. There are lots of expanses of glass, making HA602P a sunny, cheerful home. Architect is Samuel Paul, 89-30 161st St., Jamaica, N. Y.

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

You'd never have to work another day if you had all the money that is wasted by do-it-yourselfers in failing to take proper care of paint brushes.

It's a common practice for a home owner to use a paint brush a single time and then throw it away. Not because he wants to, but because it has become useless due to his failure to clean it properly.

Think now, how many of you have paint brushes in the basement or workshop which are as hard as rocks or completely out of shape or both? They'll stay that way until it's time for the next paint job. Then you'll look at them in disgust, decide it's too much trouble to restore them to usefulness and go out and buy a new brush.

A few of you, using a chemical brush cleaner, will bring them back to some semblance of life, utilizing time that could have been spent in the actual painting.

All of this can be avoided by taking a few extra moments to clean a brush as soon as you have finished using it.

Clean it with the right solvent, which means turpentine or mineral spirits for oil paints, enamel or varnish; water for water-base, rubber - base or latex paints; lacquer thinner for lacquer; denatured alcohol for shellac; and whatever solvent is recommended on the lable of certain special finishing materials.

Regardless of whether the brush is being used the next day or at some indefinite ime in the future, it never should be placed in any position that will cause the bristles to bend.

When the brush is not likely to be used again for a long period, it should be washed with a mild detergent and water after cleaning with the solvent. It should then be wrapped in foil, wax paper, oil cloh or any simlar type of wrapping.

You sometimes may hear a person say that it is better to buy an inexpensive brush and discard it after using it a few times than to buy a higher-priced brush that is used only a couple of times a year.

This theory overlooks the fact hat a good quality brush picks up more paint and thus requires less effort in dipping, that it spreads the paint more smoothly, that it sheds less and that it generally produces a better all - around performance.

For large, flat surfaces, a 4-inch brush is about right. A trim or sash brush, about 2 inches wide, is best for woodwork, paneling and trim.

A flat or oval sash brush from 1 to 3 inches in width is good for sashes, trellises and things of that nature. Flat varnish or enameling brushes, which are chiseled to permit eier flowing, are excellent for furniture, toys and objects with small, flat surfaces. Chair rungs, table legs and the like are handled better with the narrowest-size sash brush available.

Binding Definition

LONDON (AP) — A binding legal definition of Scotch whisky is included in a new government regulation. It describes the stuff as "spirits distilled from cereal mash at less than 166.4 degrees proof in such a way that the distillate has an aroma and flavor derived from the materials used, and matured in wooden casks in a warehouse for at least three years."

Ideas Offered On Problems

AP Newsfeatures

Q. — I just bought a second-hand metal filing cabinet. It is quite old, and the coat of green paint on it is in pretty bad shape. I'd like to repaint it. Do I have to take off the old coat of paint?

A. — No. Clean it with soap and water and dry thoroughly. If there is anv semblance of gloss on it, dull the finish bv rubbing lightly with steel wool. Use a metal paint. One coat probably will cover unless you're using a light color.

Q. — WE'RE thinking of buying an attic fan. Where is the best place to install it?

A.—The most commonly used place for installing an attic fan is in a horizontal position above an opening in the ceiling. This is usually in a central location such as a hall. A wood frame is installed in the attic around the ceiling opening, with the fan placed on felt strips placed to the frame. Automatic shutters are installed below the fan on the ceiling so that when they are opened, the fan runs and when they are closed, the fan stops.

However, there are several other places where such fans can be installed, including on an attic wall, so it's a good idea to accept the judgment of the installer. If you are doing the job yourself, talk it over with your dealer, giving him a detailed description of your house, including its overall dimensions.

Q. — HOW do you cut through b-x cable without damaging the insulation around the wires?

A. — Cut through the metal at a 45-degree angle. Stop when the blade breaks through; that is, when the space inside the armor is visible. Use short strokes so as to make sure the saw does not go too far. Once the cut has been made, bend the armor up and down until it breaks. The underside of the armor can then be broken by a pulling, twisting motion.

Q. — IS THERE a way to get a blonde mahogany finish or is it something that can be done only by a professional at a factory?

A. — The bare would should be given two applications of prepared bleach, available at most hardware stores, lumber yards or paint dealers. Follow instructions about rinsing. When dry, sand lightly and remove all particles of grit. Apply a coat of sealer. When that is dry, apply two finish coats of varnish.

When it is desired to remove the textured appearance of woods such as mahogany, a wood filler should be used between the coat of sealer and the finish coat.

Paint Helps Brighten Concrete And Masonry

Paint is the magic way to transform dull, gray concrete and other masonry surfaces into colorful, more attractive surfaces.

Basements, garages and laundry rooms all can be made into more pleasant working areas with a little effort. Beautifying these areas is only one reason for painting — it also makes masonry surfaces easier to clean and protects the surface from moisture, harmful chemicals and abrasives.

There is a wide choice of paints for masonry surfaces available, so check with your paint dealer to make sure you choose the right paint for your project.

In selecting a paint, you must consider the alkali present in most masonry, whether concrete, mortar between bricks, stone mortar, cinder and concrete block or stucco. Among the paints to consider are: Latex paints (those designed for masonry surfaces). One advantage of using a latex paint is the surface need not be absolutely dry. In fact, it should be slightly dampened before applying the first coat.

Portland cement powder paint should be applied to damp surfaces which must be kept damp until the cement in the paint matures (48-72 hours). These do not make a good base for other types of paint. Oil base stucco and masonry paints are most successful when concrete and adjacent wood trim are to be painted the same color. Solvent - thinned rubber - base paints, available in a wide range of colors, are ideal for concrete basement and porch floors, swimming pools and walks exposed to weather.

Bituminous coatings are used primarily below grade to water proof outside walls and for sealing before concrete floors are laid. They are excellent in their resistance to water penetration.

Keep in mind the purpose of the painting, the condition of the surface and the expected exposure should influence your choice of paints. Consult your local paint dealer for help in selecting the proper paint for your project.

Before starting to paint, check the following areas. If concrete, other masonry material or the mortar is well aged (One to two years exposed to weather). Chances are that most of the alkali has been washed out or neutralized by the atmosphere. If the surface has been previously painted, the paint is in fair condition, use a wirebrush to remove loose material such as dirt.

If the surface is to be repainted and you plan to use a water-thinned coating a surface conditional should be used first. Before applying the surface conditioner, check to make certain that the old paint is not excessively chalked or flaking. A penetrating sealer or masonry conditioner, available from your paint dealer may be indicated. If a water - thinned paint is used in contact with metal, stains may develop.

THUS, IRON, copper or other metallic objects, such as nails, imbedded in the masonry surface or adiacent to it should be primed with good anti-corrosive primer before painting.

Keep in mind the success of your painting job will depend on how well you prepare the surface. First, clean that surface. This applies whether the surface is old or new. Use a wire brush to remove all dirt, loose particles and other extraneous materials which might interfere with paint adhesion.

Once you discover just how appealing paint can make masonry surfaces, you'll want to transorm all the masonry surfaces in your home into more colorful, attractive areas.

'Missing' Auto Found; Pranksters Suspected

A 1955 model auto reported early Sunday later was found in a garage in the same area and police were advised the car's disappearance probably was the work of pranksters.

Registered to Mrs. Beulah M. Franklin of Post Office Box 243, the two-door hardtop was reported stolen between 12:05 and 12:30 yesterday morning. The owner's son found the car in a garage and advised officers the whole thing probably was a practical joke played by his fellow members of the high school senior class.

Meanwhile, a 1966 two-door sedan which Fleming Gordon of 1838 Anderson Blvd. reported stolen from his home between 10:30 p.m. Friday and 7 a.m. Saturday was found on Park Way near Anderson Blvd. at 8:21 a.m. Saturday by Patrolman Jack Strobel, police said.

Money For Mallaig

MALLAIG, Scotland (AP) — The picturesque harbor at Mallaig, one of the busiest herring fishing ports in Britain and a principal gateway to the Hebridean Islands off Western Scotland, is to be improved at a cost of 400 000 pounds ($960,000).

Tips Offered On Bathroom

The average bathroom installed 10 years ago was 5 by 7 feet and had little more than a tub, lavatory and water closet.

Today, it's more likely to be 7 by 8 or 7 by 10, and there's a wide choice of equipment.

If you're planning to add or remodel a bathroom, the following are the beauty and convenience features available to you according to the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau of Chicago:

1. — Vanity lavatories — bowls sunk into generous countertops, with storage space beneath. The trend is to two-bowl types.

2. — Off - the - floor water closets that make cleaning the floor easier.

3. — Bidget. This personal hygiene device looks like a water closet and is usually installed next to it.

4. — Greatly improved faucets that are virtually leakproof.

5. — Showerheads that can be adjusted to different heights according to the size of the bather.

6. — Shower controls that enable you to pre-set the water temperature before turning it on. The water then remains at that temperature regardless of pressure changes. Sudden surges of icy cold or scalding hot water ar no more.

7. — Tubs that are skid-resistant, have built-in soap dishes and grab bars.

It's wise to buy quality products, since the bathroom is used more than anything else in the home. It's also wise to deal with a plumbing contractor who handles the complete remodeling job.

He'll help you plan the decor, select your equipment and have all the plumbing, tiling, electrical wiring, etc., done by his men or his own subcontractors. That way you have to deal with only one trade instead of several. Furthermore, since he schedules everyone involved in the job, he'll get it done with dispatch.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I go about cleaning all - fiberglass luggage, which is of the type that has no additional covering?

A. — By wiping with a damp cloth. And any scratches that might be present can usually be smoothed out by the careful use of fine steel wool.

Q. — How can I prevent mold and mildew in dresser drawers, clothes and linen closets and other such storage places?

A. — By keeping a few pieces of chalk in these places. This is also good to use wherever shoes and leather goods are kept.

If You Want Best Results, Paint Down!

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

There are probably 10 or 12 important rules about painting, such as not painting on a damp or dirty surface, not painting when the temperature is below 40 degrees or is exremely hot and not applying a second coat until the first is thoroughly dry.

But it is doubtful if any of them is more important than the rule which says always paint down.

It is quite evident to the average person that painting down makes good sense. In the first place, paint will naturally flow downward, which means that the painter has a chance to smooth out drips as he goes lower.

Secondly, there is always a chance that applying one color to a house well above a different color will result in a thousand spots on the lower work.

Another excellent reason is that painting is hard work, and the hardest part is the higher work. For this reason the tough part of the job should be done while you are fresh and at your best. Painting a wall while you are comfortably on your feet is easy.

The average house job should start with the gutters, then the trim immediately beneath and then the large wall area. Corner boards, windows and door trim, on which you use a smaller brush, can well be left to the last.

Naturally, there are times when painting cannot be done in the best of approved procedures as in the case of agutter needing another coat after the wall is finished.

In this case, the answer is to tack drip cloths over the area beneath the new painting. It takes about two minutes to seures, as in the case of a gutter tacks, and it might take you hours to undo a lot of drip.

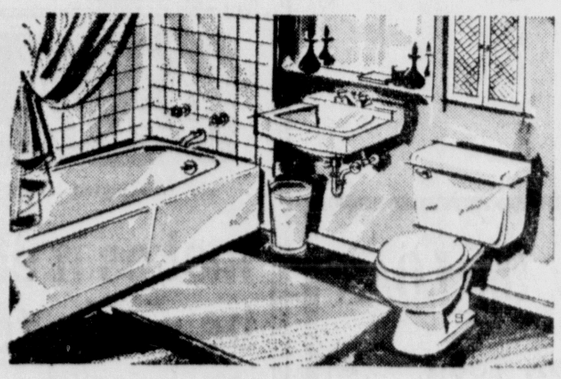

Chat With Wife

Judges Seen Too Late On Money Rules

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's leading federal judges, moving hastily to draft their own rules for off-the-bench behavior and possibly financial disclosure, have drawn a stern warning that they're too late.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield said Sunday judges, as well as lawmakers and members of the executive branch, should be covered by the same laws. He promised to support one that would require disclosing both outside payments and business connections.

Mansfield replied with a blunt "no" when asked if he would be willing to accept a code for self-policing by the judiciary itself.

"I think they are late and we are late in facing up to this problem," he added.

Only a day before Mansfield spoke, Chief Justice Earl Warren called a special meeting of the Judicial Conference for June 10 to consider judges' nonjudicial activites and, possibly, financial disclosure rules.

The conference was called after its committee on Court Administration met in secret for five hours Saturday to discuss the matter.

The conference normally would not meet until the fall, so the special session appeared to be an attempt to head off, or at least influence the nature of, disclosure laws which Congress might pass. Its members are 25 judges, with the chief justice as chairman.

Mansfield specifically rejected leaving the judges to police themselves. Even tightening up confirmation procedures in the Senate, then leaving the problems to a judicial council of some type doesn't go far enough, he said.

A financial disclosure law, he said, should apply to everyone in the federal government who make more than $18,000 a year. Such a cutoff line would include everyone down to the top levels of Civil Service ratings.

Vote Switching Seen

GOP Leaders Predict Victory In ABM Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — After weeks of selling, the Nixon administration now believes it has the commitments necessary for Senate approval of the Safeguard antimissile system.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said in an interview he is confident "the votes will be there" when the issue comes before the Senate, possibly next month.

Although Dirksen said he knows of two switches among Republicans who came out early against ABM but have had second thoughts, he declined to mention any names or to deal in numbers.

He declined also to name any of those who had switched from the uncommitted column to the administration side.

"This is a delicate matter and I'm not going to put anybody on the spot," Dirksen said.

The administration's previous poll showed 44 senators committedto vote for Safeguard, but 46 committed against. That meant it needed six more votes, plus that of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, who can vote only if there is a tie, if all Senator answer a roll call.

But the Senate seldom marshals all of its members for such votes. Illness or prior commitments often keep some away. If a couple of GOP opponents found it convenient to be absent, the administration would regard that action as satisfactory.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana seemed to have some such situation in mind when he said in a weekend interview that if the administration puts on pressure it could win by a margin of one to three votes.

Despite Mansfield's contention that this might be a Pyrrhic victory—worth less than it cost—the administration's attitude appears to be that it will take any kind of victory it can get. Mansfield has opposed ABM.

Sen. Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa., an ABM critic, said in a Pennsylvania broadcast Sunday he had felt some White House pressure to change his stance but "it has been within bounds and quite reasonable" so far.

"I suspect it will get a little bit hotter as the June deadline rolls around," he said.

Sen. Hugh Scott, the assistant GOP Leader and a Safeguard backer, said no one would dare to try to put pressure on most Senators.

He said he would be a little happier politically if he were on the "anti" side. He reported 6,000 letters opposing ABM and only a few hundred supporting it. But he said the situation could change.

"If we get to vote on it in June, much may depend on the last things the President says and the last things the ranking committee members say about it," he said.

Testimony Awaited

Ray Makes Bid For Full Trial In Slaying Of King

J. B. Stoner a member of Ray's third team of lawyers, said he was prepared to put his client on the witness stand if developments at acriminal court hearing permitted.

Ray, serving 99 years in the Nashville state prison, was brought to Memphis Thursday and had since been held under heavy security precautions in the county jail.

A witness stand appearance by the 41-year-old prisoner would have interesting possibilities. At the time of his guilty plea his then lawyer, Percy Foreman, expressed in court a personal conviction that there was no conspiracy in the April 1968 King assassination. Ray said "I don't agree," but did not elaborate.

Ray is asking a new deal in court on the grounds that his former attorneys did not provide him with adequate counsel and pressured him into a guilty plea. He also contends the subsequent death of Judge W. Preston Battle, who accepted the plea, guarantees him a new trial. The presiding judge for today's hearing, Arthur Faquin, will decide whether the case should be reopened and whether to allow any testimony.

Ray wrote Judge Battle two letters from prison asking for a new hearing. Battle died in late March without acting on the requests.

Ray asserted that Foreman, his second attorney, and a previous lawyer, Arthur J. Hanes, wanted him to circumvent a full-scale trial through a guilty plea so their royalties from books and motion pictures on his life would not be jeopardized.

He argued that if he had gone to trial, the facts in the case would have become court record and, therefore, would have been open to all parties wanting to write about them.

The prosecution has stood firm on the position that Ray closed the possibility of an appeal or new trial when he pleaded guilty.

Battle's death introduced a new factor. Under state law, when a judge dies with a motion for a new trial in his possessions, such a trial usually must be granted.

If the defense could prove Ray's letters to the judge were in effect a new-trial motion, the state law might apply. The prosecution argument has been that the law only applied when there had been a trial in the first place, not in cases where trial was waived by a guilty plea.

Lisbon Man Hurt During Collision

LISBON — A local man was injured and damage was heavy in two traffic accidents here over the weekend, police report.

William A. Seidner, 44, of 133 Green St. received a sprained shoulder when his car and one driven by Joseph B. Wainwright, 85, of 128 N. Vine St. collided at 11 a.m. Saturday under the traffic light at Washington and Market Sts.

Police charged Wainwright with failure to yield the right-of-way. He posted a $15 bond for an appearance Tuesday night in mayor's court.

There was approximately $500 damage to Wainwright's car and $350 damage to Seidner's sedan, police said.

A rear-end collision at 1:45 p.m. Sunday on Jackson St., just south of E. Lincoln Way, caused $350 damage to the rear of a convertible operated by Allen Fowles, 41, of Cleveland.

Police said Fowles had stopped for the Lincoln Way traffic light and was hit from behind by a 1969 sedan driven by Charles Russell, 39, of 331 Washington St., Newell. He posted a $15 appearance bond on a charge of failure to stop in an assured clear distance. There was about $150 damage to his car, police said.

Mary Darline House of Lisbon posted a $10 bond Saturday for an appearance Tuesday before Mayor Clyde B. Pike on an assault and battery complaint by Ruth A. Grossen of Lisbon Rd.

Rogers Reports On Progress For Mid-East Peace

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers made his debut at another conference of allied foreign ministers today and told them the United States and Russia have made "some progress" in their effort to clear the way for Arab-Israeli exchanges on a Middle East peace settlement.

"The United States has been holding important talks with other major powers both in Washington and at the United Nations," Rogers told the council of the Central Treaty Organization, or CENTO. "These talks are reaching a more concrete stage. Fundamental differences remain, but some progress has been made."

CENTO—made up of Turkey, Iran, Pakistan and Britain—was conceived by the late John Foster Dulles as part of a chain of alliances to contain the Soviet Union. Iraq, a founding meber, pulled out after the monarchy was overthrown. The United States never joined although it is a member of the alliance's economic and military committees and its scientific council. In recent years Turkey, Iran and Pakistan all have developed closer relations with Moscow, and CENTO has paid more attention to economic development.

Man Given Term For Burglary At East Rochester

LISBON — William Langhorn, 36, of Cleveland was sentenced this morning in Common Pleas Court to 1 to 15 years in the Ohio Penitentiary for burglary Jan. 25 at Jarrett's Feed & Supply Co. in East Rochester.

Scheduled for trial today on a two-county indictment, Langhorn was given permission to change his pleas to "guilty" to the Jarrett break-in.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard imposed sentence after dismissing the other count — burglary the same night at Art Hole's Auto Co. in East Rochester.

Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis asked the court to dismiss the Hole charge, explaining "the state cannot prove all the essential elements in the second count — I cannot put this defendant inside the building."

John Wasson, 30, of Akron is free on bond awaiting trial in connection with the same burglaries.

Atomic energy was first used for a practical purpose on Aug. 6, 1945, when an atomic bomb was dropped on Hiroshima, Japan, in World War II.

Charge Dropped Against Husband

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today dismissed an affidavit charging a St. Clair Township man with failure to obey an order to raze or repair a building on Claiborne Ave. but ordered his estranged wife to stand trial on the charge Tuesday because she is the sole owner of the property.

The action came as the court prepared to hear the separate cases of Ray Shields and his wife, Mrs. Marjorie Shields, of Substation Rd., accused of failure to comply with Fire Chief Alfred VanDyne's order on the old Y. & O. freight station. Shields was represented by William Tenzrow of Wellsville while George A. Aronson appeared for Mrs. Shields. Both pleaded not guilty.

Telzrow advised the court that his client has no interest in the property since he signed it over to his wife in November as part of a separation agreement. After further confirmation, the court dismissed the charge against Shields.

The court asked Chief VanDyne if his April 3 order had been complied with. VanDyne replied it had not. The judge then set the hearing for Mrs. Shields tomorrow.

Roll Of Judges Called During Man's Hearing

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today called the roll of every man who ever occupied the local bench to refute the claim of a long-time intoxication defendant that he intended to quit drinking.

Harold Amos, arrested Friday night in Green Ln., asked the court for lenieny and added: "I have an apartment now and I intend to live right."

"Harold, I've been on the bench 10 years and I've heard that story from you countless times," the judge replied. "No doubt you also told it to my predecessor, Judge G. L. Brokaw, and the man who preceded him, Judge Frank E. Grosshans. You may have told it to the first man who occupied the bench, Judge Jesse Hanley."

But the court concluded the case by giving Amos a suspended fine of $25 and costs.

Wynn Slugging For Hot Astros

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jimmy Wynn has walloped four home runs in Houston's last four games-a pretty good pace.

But Wynn's slugging clip is only about half as fast as the one Lee May is following. May tagged two more homers in Cincinnati's 7-2 victory over Montreal Sunday, giving him four in two games.

Wynn's eighth inning shot helped Houston's streaking Astros to a 6-3 victory over the New York Mets and gave him 12 for the year, tying him for the National League lead with May.

The two-man tie lasted about two hours or until Willie McCovey cracked his 12th and third in four games for San Francisco, making it a three-way deadlock. But McCovey couldn't prevent the Giants from dropping both ends of a doubleheader to Pittsburgh, 2-1 and 6-2.

In other National League games Sunday, Atlanta trimmed Philadelphia 4-1, St. Louis blanked Los Angeles 4-0, and San Diego split a doubleheader with Chicago, winning the first game 10-2 and dropping the second 1-0.

In the American League, Minnesota swept a doubleheader from New York 2-1 and 3-2, Kansas City tripped Washington 3-2 in 12 innings, Baltimore dropped Oakland 5-3, Seattle shaded Cleveland 3-2, Detroit bombed California 10-0 and Boston shut out Chicago 1-0.

May drilled a three-run homer to break a 1-1 tie in the third inning and then unloaded a lead-off shot in the sixth. In two games, he drove in eight runs against the hapless Expos, who lost their 10th straight.

"I'm in the groove now," the soft-spoken Reds' first baseman said. "I'm just meeting the ball. This hitting is all within yourself. When you find yourself, is when you begin hitting."

May has smacked seven homers in the last 10 games and he got plenty of help Sunday. Bobby Tolan also homered for the Reds and Alex Johnson and Tony Perez added two hits apiece with Perez driving in a pair of runs.

Norm Miller smacked four hits and Curt Blefary three as the Astros hopped on Tom Seaver and whipped the Mets Wynn's eighth inning homer got some extra breathing room.

The Astros, who've won eight straight and 17 of the 21 this month, hopped on Seaver, 6-3, for three runs in the first inning with Blefary's double and run-scoring singles by Miller and Jesus Alou.

Jim Bunning won his 200th major league game, beating San Francisco for Pittsburgh in the opener of their doubleheader with Willie Stargell's eighth-inning double driving home the winning run.

Then McCovey and Bobby Bonds hit second game homers for the Giants but it wasn't enough as the Pirates completed the sweep. Bill Mazeroski's homer touched off a three-run Pittsburgh third and Carl Taylor later tagged his first major league homer for two more runs.

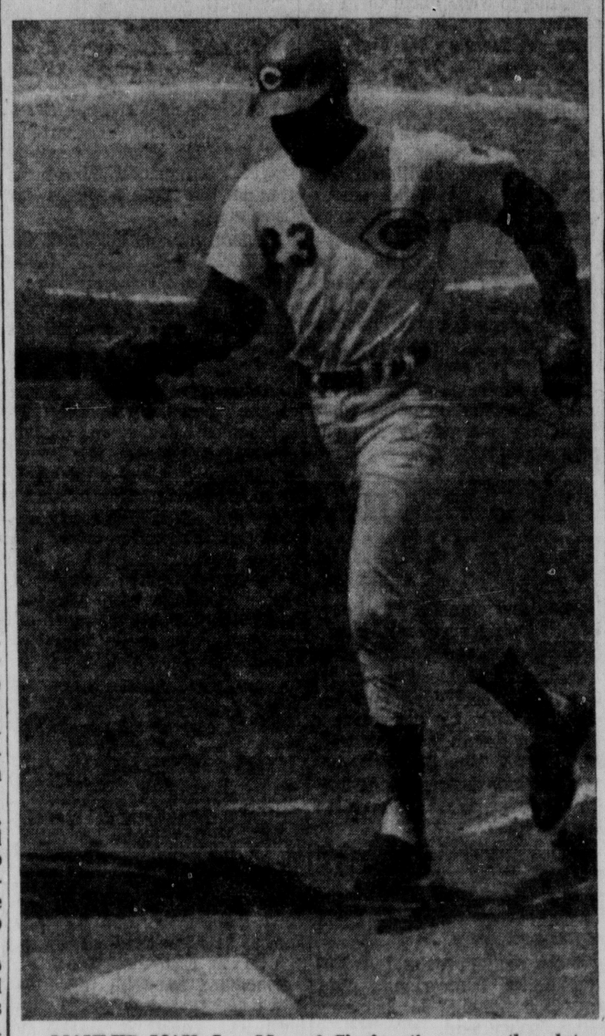

Atlanta used its pitching cousins—George Stone and Cecil Upshaw—to throttle Philadelphia on five hits.

Upshaw relieved his cousin, Stone, in the seventh inning and preserved the victory. He also walloped an eighth inning homer—the Braves' third of the game. Mike Lum and Orlando Cepeda had connected earlier.

Bob Gibson gave up singles to the first two men he faced and then allowed only four more hits the rest of the day, pitching St. Louis past Los Angeles. Gibson struck out nine and rode a 15-hit Cardinal attack—four by Curt Flood—to his third shutout of the season.

Nate Colbert walloped a grand slam homer and Al Ferrara and Ollie Brown also connected easing Johnny Podres and San Diego to their first game victory over Chicago. Podres went all the way—the first San Diego complete game since opening day—and the victory ended a seven-game losing streak for the Padres.

Ron Santo broke a scoreless duel in the nightcap with a lead-off homer in the Chicago ninth. That was enough to beat ex-Cub Joe Niekro.

MAULER MAY. Lee May of Cincinnati crosses the plate with his 12th homer of the season and fourth in two games in Cincinnati yesterday. May is tied with Willie McCovey of San Francisco and Jim Wynn of Houston for the NL lead. (UPI Telephoto)

Yancey Nips Devlin In Atlanta Playoff

ATLANTA (AP) — Bert Yancey can quit worrying about faltering under pressure on the pro golf tour.

He doesn't have to worry much about paying his bills, either.

Yancey never wavered Sunday in the pressure-packed finish of the Atlanta Classic Golf Tournament, sinking three clutch putts that gave him a $23,000 paycheck.

The former West Point cadet, who suffered a nervous breakdown at the academy, rammed home a 10-foot birdie putt on the 18th hole of the final round to tie Australia's Bruce Devlin.

Yancey rolled in another 10-footer for a birdie on the first hole of a sudden death playoff, with Devlin knocking in a six-footer.

Then Yancey closed out the battle on the second extra hole with a seven-footer for a birdie that he said left him "feeling like a millionaire."

Yancey said before the start of the final round that he has been playing well recently except at the finish, when the pressure got to him.

"But I think I've gotten tough enough inside now to win it," he said.

The 30-year-old Floridian said after the frantic finish that ht had eased the pressure by forgetting about his rival.

"I don't look back any more like I used to," he said. "I don't watch the scoreboards to see how anyone else is doing.

"I've quit worrying about the other players, and I concentrate on what I'm doing.

"That way, I'm not as susceptible to as much pressure as I used to be," Yancey said.

"And those three putts I made were almost unbelievable for a putter like me," added the slender veteran, who boosted his 1969 earnings to $50,323.

Devlin, who blew a two-stroke lead by bogeying the 16th and 17th holes, said "I didn't lose—Bert won.

Devlin had reeled off four straight birdies to take the lead before he faltered on two straight holes. He sank a 10-foot birdie putt on the 18th to tie, with both Devlin and Yancey shooting 69s for 72-hole totals of 277.

Gary player, the little South African who has averaged $9,000 in earnings in eight tournament starts, finished third with a closing 70 for 278.

Carrollton Nips Indians In Eighth

Carrollton kept in the running for the Buckeye Border Conference baseball title with a 6-5 win over Southern Local at Carrollton Friday.

The winless Indians forced the game into the eighth inning before losing. George Thompson yeilded only two hits, but eight errors hurt Southern. In the seventh the Warriors loaded the bases with none out, but Thompson pitched out of the situation, helped by a double play.

Jack Thompson had a triple and single and Rob Carter two hits for Southern.

PROSPECT, Ky. (AP) — The $2,325 Mickey Wright picked up by winning the Bluegrass Invitational Golf Tournament isn't much compared to the $250,000 she has won the past 11 years.

But the victory, her first in nine starts this year, should indicate to the other women pros that the veteran from Dallas is back on her game and is a definite threat in the upcoming tournaments.

Miss Wright nipped Betsy Rawls of Spartansburg, S.C., in a sudden death playoff in the Ladies' Professional Golf Association event Sunday when she rolled in a three-foot putt for a par on the first extra hole.

The two women were deadlocked at even par 216 after 54 holes of play.

Miss Wright, who said she didn't even play golf from August of 1968 to January of this year, was happy to get the victory after blowing a four-shot lead with only nine holes to play.

Testimony Awaited

J. B. Stoner a member of Ray's third team of lawyers, said he was prepared to put his client on the witness stand if developments at acriminal court hearing permitted.

Ray, serving 99 years in the Nashville state prison, was brought to Memphis Thursday and had since been held under heavy security precautions in the county jail.

A witness stand appearance by the 41-year-old prisoner would have interesting possibilities. At the time of his guilty plea his then lawyer, Percy Foreman, expressed in court a personal conviction that there was no conspiracy in the April 1968 King assassination. Ray said "I don't agree," but did not elaborate.

Ray is asking a new deal in court on the grounds that his former attorneys did not provide him with adequate counsel and pressured him into a guilty plea. He also contends the subsequent death of Judge W. Preston Battle, who accepted the plea, guarantees him a new trial. The presiding judge for today's hearing, Arthur Faquin, will decide whether the case should be reopened and whether to allow any testimony.

Ray wrote Judge Battle two letters from prison asking for a new hearing. Battle died in late March without acting on the requests.

Ray asserted that Foreman, his second attorney, and a previous lawyer, Arthur J. Hanes, wanted him to circumvent a full-scale trial through a guilty plea so their royalties from books and motion pictures on his life would not be jeopardized.

He argued that if he had gone to trial, the facts in the case would have become court record and, therefore, would have been open to all parties wanting to write about them.

The prosecution has stood firm on the position that Ray closed the possibility of an appeal or new trial when he pleaded guilty.

Battle's death introduced a new factor. Under state law, when a judge dies with a motion for a new trial in his possessions, such a trial usually must be granted.

If the defense could prove Ray's letters to the judge were in effect a new-trial motion, the state law might apply. The prosecution argument has been that the law only applied when there had been a trial in the first place, not in cases where trial was waived by a guilty plea.

Lisbon Man Hurt During Collision

LISBON — A local man was injured and damage was heavy in two traffic accidents here over the weekend, police report.

William A. Seidner, 44, of 133 Green St. received a sprained shoulder when his car and one driven by Joseph B. Wainwright, 85, of 128 N. Vine St. collided at 11 a.m. Saturday under the traffic light at Washington and Market Sts.

Police charged Wainwright with failure to yield the right-of-way. He posted a $15 bond for an appearance Tuesday night in mayor's court.

There was approximately $500 damage to Wainwright's car and $350 damage to Seidner's sedan, police said.

A rear-end collision at 1:45 p.m. Sunday on Jackson St., just south of E. Lincoln Way, caused $350 damage to the rear of a convertible operated by Allen Fowles, 41, of Cleveland.

Police said Fowles had stopped for the Lincoln Way traffic light and was hit from behind by a 1969 sedan driven by Charles Russell, 39, of 331 Washington St., Newell. He posted a $15 appearance bond on a charge of failure to stop in an assured clear distance. There was about $150 damage to his car, police said.

Mary Darline House of Lisbon posted a $10 bond Saturday for an appearance Tuesday before Mayor Clyde B. Pike on an assault and battery complaint by Ruth A. Grossen of Lisbon Rd.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's Aquatic Weed Laboratory in Fort Lauderdale says that aquatic weeds in Florida cost the state more than $50 million a year in property depreciation.

Rogers Reports On Progress For Mid-East Peace

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers made his debut at another conference of allied foreign ministers today and told them the United States and Russia have made "some progress" in their effort to clear the way for Arab-Israeli exchanges on a Middle East peace settlement.

"The United States has been holding important talks with other major powers both in Washington and at the United Nations," Rogers told the council of the Central Treaty Organization, or CENTO. "These talks are reaching a more concrete stage. Fundamental differences remain, but some progress has been made."

CENTO—made up of Turkey, Iran, Pakistan and Britain—was conceived by the late John Foster Dulles as part of a chain of alliances to contain the Soviet Union. Iraq, a founding meber, pulled out after the monarchy was overthrown. The United States never joined although it is a member of the alliance's economic and military committees and its scientific council. In recent years Turkey, Iran and Pakistan all have developed closer relations with Moscow, and CENTO has paid more attention to economic development.

Man Given Term For Burglary At East Rochester

LISBON — William Langhorn, 36, of Cleveland was sentenced this morning in Common Pleas Court to 1 to 15 years in the Ohio Penitentiary for burglary Jan. 25 at Jarrett's Feed & Supply Co. in East Rochester.

Scheduled for trial today on a two-county indictment, Langhorn was given permission to change his pleas to "guilty" to the Jarrett break-in.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard imposed sentence after dismissing the other count — burglary the same night at Art Hole's Auto Co. in East Rochester.

Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis asked the court to dismiss the Hole charge, explaining "the state cannot prove all the essential elements in the second count — I cannot put this defendant inside the building."

John Wasson, 30, of Akron is free on bond awaiting trial in connection with the same burglaries.

Charge Dropped Against Husband

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today dismissed an affidavit charging a St. Clair Township man with failure to obey an order to raze or repair a building on Claiborne Ave. but ordered his estranged wife to stand trial on the charge Tuesday because she is the sole owner of the property.

The action came as the court prepared to hear the separate cases of Ray Shields and his wife, Mrs. Marjorie Shields, of Substation Rd., accused of failure to comply with Fire Chief Alfred VanDyne's order on the old Y. & O. freight station. Shields was represented by William Tenzrow of Wellsville while George A. Aronson appeared for Mrs. Shields. Both pleaded not guilty.

Telzrow advised the court that his client has no interest in the property since he signed it over to his wife in November as part of a separation agreement. After further confirmation, the court dismissed the charge against Shields.

The court asked Chief VanDyne if his April 3 order had been complied with. VanDyne replied it had not. The judge then set the hearing for Mrs. Shields tomorrow.

Roll Of Judges Called During Man's Hearing

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today called the roll of every man who ever occupied the local bench to refute the claim of a long-time intoxication defendant that he intended to quit drinking.

Harold Amos, arrested Friday night in Green Ln., asked the court for lenieny and added: "I have an apartment now and I intend to live right."

"Harold, I've been on the bench 10 years and I've heard that story from you countless times," the judge replied. "No doubt you also told it to my predecessor, Judge G. L. Brokaw, and the man who preceded him, Judge Frank E. Grosshans. You may have told it to the first man who occupied the bench, Judge Jesse Hanley."

But the court concluded the case by giving Amos a suspended fine of $25 and costs.

Twins Sweep, Take First In West

By DICK COUCH

Jim Lonborg can't hurry and Denny Mclain won't wait, but neither one has forgotten which way to go.

Lonborg, the American League's 1967 Cy Young Award winner, and McLain, his successor last year, pitched seven scoreless innings apiece Sunday as Boston nipped Chicago 1-0 and Detroit trampled California 10-0.

Lonborg, plagued by recurring shoulder trouble that has kept him from pitching a complete game this spring, scattered four hits before Vicente Romo put the wraps on the Red Sox' first shutout in 40 starts.

"I was tempted to try the full nine, but I'm glad it worked out this way," said Lonborg, 3-0, who will attempt to go the distance in his next start. "My shoulder really stiffened up after I left. You just can't do it all in one day."

McLain, who pitched six innings last Thursday in a 7-3 loss to Chicago, bounced back with two days' rest and blanked the hapless Angels on two hits to earn his seventh victory in 11 decisions with mop-up help from John Hiller.

He also won his seventh a year ago on May 25—and went on to an amazing 31-6 finish.

"I never ask a guy to pitch with two days rest," said Tigers Manager Mayo Smith, "but Denny came to me and wanted to pitch. Pitchers like him need a lot of work.

"Besides, he's having a tooth extracted Monday and it'd be worse if he pitched Tuesday."

McLain has pitched 100 innings, tops in the majors, in 13 games—compared to 22 innings in four appearances for Lonborg.

Despite the Red Sox' fifth victory in six games and the Tigers' sixth in seven, neither could pick up ground on Baltimore's torrid East Division leaders, who shaded Oakland 5-3 on Don Buford's two-run eighth inning double and extended their winning streak to five.

The loss, coupled with Minnesota's 2-1, 3-2 doubleheader sweep at New York, dropped Oakland 1½ games behind the pace-setting Twins in the West. Elsewhere, Kansas City edged slumping Washington 3-2 in 12 innings and Seattle beat Cleveland 3-2.

In the National League, Pittsburgh downed San Francisco twice, 2-1 and 6-2; the Chicago Cubs split a twin bill with San Diego, bowing 1'-2 before winning 1-0; Atlanta trimmed Philadelphia 4-1; Cincinnati drubbed Montreal 7-3; St. Louis blanked Los Angeles 4-0 and Houston dropped the New York Mets 6-3.

George Scott's fifth inning homer—the first of only two hits off southpaw Tommy John—carried Lonborg and the Red Sox past the White Sox. Romo pitched out of a ninth inning jam after yielding a one-out triple by Duane Josephson and earned his eighth save in 13 appearances with Boston.

Don Wert drove in four runs with a homer and single and Willie Horton and Dick McAuliffe also homered as the Tigers handed California its 10th consecutive loss.

Buford's tie-breaking double, after singles by Chico Salmon and Mark Belanger and a hit batsman filled the bases, sent the Orioles to their 10th victory in 11 games. Boog Powell and Brooks Robinson drilled homers for Baltimore and Mike Hershberger and Danny Cater connected for the A's, who have lost six in a row.

Minnesota's Dave Boswell hurled a three-hitter and doubled to touch off a two-run seventh inning rally in the opener at Yankee Stadium before a Ball Day crowd of 57,445—biggest in the majors this year.

Harmon Killebrew delivered the winning run with a sacrifice fly and also knocked in the deciding run in the nightcap with a seventh inning single. Rookie Dick Woodson blanked the Yanks on four hits until the ninth, when he needed relief help from Ron Perranoski.

Tommy Harper stole three bases before drawing a bases-loaded walk in the eighth to force in the tie-breaking run and cap a two-run Seattle comeback. Lee Maye's sixth inning homer accounted for both Cleveland runs.

Beaver Local Forfeits Game

Beaver Local was forced to forfeit to Springfield Friday because the umpires, contracted for by the Beavers, failed to show up.

The forfeit loss was the third in league play for Beaver Local, virtually eliminating them from Buckeye Border Conference title contention.

It is likely that no more games will be played by Beaver Local.

Beaver Local Golfers Defeat Springfield

Bob Eardley fired a 37 and Rick Metz 38 to lead the Beaver Local golf team in a 170-181 victory over Springfield Friday at the East Liverpool Country Club.

Dave Bentz had a 45 and John Torma 50 for the Beavers.

The victory gave Beaver Local a 15-4 record.

Joe Namath Day in Beaver Falls Saturday was a huge success, with a record crowd (for Beaver Falls) of some 2,000 turning out to welcome home Broadway Joe, Super Bowl hero.

East Liverpool Larry Bruno, Beaver Falls high football coach who coached Namath, was general chairman of the day, which ended in a banquet at Geneva College.

THE WPIAL baseball playoffs will start Monday, June 2. Center Twp., the Section 4 champ, will face Ellwood City, the Section 6 titlist, while Beaver Falls, the Section 5 winner, will meet Avonworth.

Wynn Slugging For Hot Astros

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jimmy Wynn has walloped four home runs in Houston's last four games-a pretty good pace.

But Wynn's slugging clip is only about half as fast as the one Lee May is following. May tagged two more homers in Cincinnati's 7-2 victory over Montreal Sunday, giving him four in two games.

Wynn's eighth inning shot helped Houston's streaking Astros to a 6-3 victory over the New York Mets and gave him 12 for the year, tying him for the National League lead with May.

The two-man tie lasted about two hours or until Willie McCovey cracked his 12th and third in four games for San Francisco, making it a three-way deadlock. But McCovey couldn't prevent the Giants from dropping both ends of a doubleheader to Pittsburgh, 2-1 and 6-2.

In other National League games Sunday, Atlanta trimmed Philadelphia 4-1, St. Louis blanked Los Angeles 4-0, and San Diego split a doubleheader with Chicago, winning the first game 10-2 and dropping the second 1-0.

In the American League, Minnesota swept a doubleheader from New York 2-1 and 3-2, Kansas City tripped Washington 3-2 in 12 innings, Baltimore dropped Oakland 5-3, Seattle shaded Cleveland 3-2, Detroit bombed California 10-0 and Boston shut out Chicago 1-0.

May drilled a three-run homer to break a 1-1 tie in the third inning and then unloaded a lead-off shot in the sixth. In two games, he drove in eight runs against the hapless Expos, who lost their 10th straight.

"I'm in the groove now," the soft-spoken Reds' first baseman said. "I'm just meeting the ball. This hitting is all within yourself. When you find yourself, is when you begin hitting."

May has smacked seven homers in the last 10 games and he got plenty of help Sunday. Bobby Tolan also homered for the Reds and Alex Johnson and Tony Perez added two hits apiece with Perez driving in a pair of runs.

Norm Miller smacked four hits and Curt Blefary three as the Astros hopped on Tom Seaver and whipped the Mets. Wynn's eighth inning homer got some extra breathing room.

The Astros, who've won eight straight and 17 of the 21 this month, hopped on Seaver, 6-3, for three runs in the first inning with Blefary's double and run-scoring singles by Miller and Jesus Alou.

Jim Bunning won his 200th major league game, beating San Francisco for Pittsburgh in the opener of their doubleheader with Willie Stargell's eighth-inning double driving home the winning run.

Then McCovey and Bobby Bonds hit second game homers for the Giants but it wasn't enough as the Pirates completed the sweep. Bill Mazeroski's homer touched off a three-run Pittsburgh third and Carl Taylor later tagged his first major league homer for two more runs.

Atlanta used its pitching cousins—George Stone and Cecil Upshaw—to throttle Philadelphia on five hits.

Upshaw relieved his cousin, Stone, in the seventh inning and preserved the victory. He also walloped an eighth inning homer—the Braves' third of the game. Mike Lum and Orlando Cepeda had connected earlier.

Bob Gibson gave up singles to the first two men he faced and then allowed only four more hits the rest of the day, pitching St. Louis past Los Angeles. Gibson struck out nine and rode a 15-hit Cardinal attack—four by Curt Flood—to his third shutout of the season.

Nate Colbert walloped a grand slam homer and Al Ferrara and Ollie Brown also connected easing Johnny Podres and San Diego to their first game victory over Chicago. Podres went all the way—the first San Diego complete game since opening day—and the victory ended a seven-game losing streak for the Padres.

Ron Santo broke a scoreless duel in the nightcap with a lead-off homer in the Chicago ninth. That was enough to beat ex-Cub Joe Niekro.

Miss Wright Bluegrass Golf Winner

PROSPECT, Ky. (AP) — The $2,325 Mickey Wright picked up by winning the Bluegrass Invitational Golf Tournament isn't much compared to the $250,000 she has won the past 11 years.

But the victory, her first in nine starts this year, should indicate to the other women pros that the veteran from Dallas is back on her game and is a definite threat in the upcoming tournaments.

Miss Wright nipped Betsy Rawls of Spartansburg, S.C., in a sudden death playoff in the Ladies' Professional Golf Association event Sunday when she rolled in a three-foot putt for a par on the first extra hole.

The two women were deadlocked at even par 216 after 54 holes of play.

Miss Wright, who said she didn't even play golf from August of 1968 to January of this year, was happy to get the victory after blowing a four-shot lead with only nine holes to play.

Roy Walker Places Third In State Meet

Midland's Roy Walker finished third in the 100-yard dash in the state Class B track meet at Penn State Saturday.

Gary Risch, of Freeport, who had lost to Walker in the WPIAL championships, won the race in 9.9 seconds. Walker, who had done 9.8 to win the WPIAL, managed only 10.0. Ron Miller of Unionville was second.

Tom Melonic of Quaker Valley took third in the two-mile run and Frank Smith of the Quakers was fourth in the broad jump. Risch also won the 220 and led Freeport's 880-yard relay team to a win as Freeport won the team title. Bill Dvorzak of Freedom was second in the discus, as the winning throw was 168-9½.

Ray Mushinski of Ambridge set a Class A mark with a javelin throw of 238-0.

Tim Crago tied his own record of 6-0½ in the high jump, good for fourth place. The winner jumped no higher, but had fewer misses.

School records were set in the 440, 880 and mile relays, but none of these teams placed. The quartet of Greg Hobbs, Jim Carnes, Tom McGeehan and Rich Sims did :44.6 in the 440 and 1:33.6 in the 880. Dane Shilling, McGeehan, Crago and Joe Nemith turned in a 3:36.6 in the mile relay.

St. Alban's won the state title.

Yancey Nips Devlin In Atlanta Playoff

ATLANTA (AP) — Bert Yancey can quit worrying about faltering under pressure on the pro golf tour.

He doesn't have to worry much about paying his bills, either.

Yancey never wavered Sunday in the pressure-packed finish of the Atlanta Classic Golf Tournament, sinking three clutch putts that gave him a $23,000 paycheck.

The former West Point cadet, who suffered a nervous breakdown at the academy, rammed home a 10-foot birdie putt on the 18th hole of the final round to tie Australia's Bruce Devlin.

Yancey rolled in another 10-footer for a birdie on the first hole of a sudden death playoff, with Devlin knocking in a six-footer.

Then Yancey closed out the battle on the second extra hole with a seven-footer for a birdie that he said left him "feeling like a millionaire."

Yancey said before the start of the final round that he has been playing well recently except at the finish, when the pressure got to him.

"But I think I've gotten tough enough inside now to win it," he said.

The 30-year-old Floridian said after the frantic finish that ht had eased the pressure by forgetting about his rival.

"I don't look back any more like I used to," he said. "I don't watch the scoreboards to see how anyone else is doing.

"I've quit worrying about the other players, and I concentrate on what I'm doing.

"That way, I'm not as susceptible to as much pressure as I used to be," Yancey said.

"And those three putts I made were almost unbelievable for a putter like me," added the slender veteran, who boosted his 1969 earnings to $50,323.

Devlin, who blew a two-stroke lead by bogeying the 16th and 17th holes, said "I didn't lose—Bert won.

Devlin had reeled off four straight birdies to take the lead before he faltered on two straight holes. He sank a 10-foot birdie putt on the 18th to tie, with both Devlin and Yancey shooting 69s for 72-hole totals of 277.

Gary player, the little South African who has averaged $9,000 in earnings in eight tournament starts, finished third with a closing 70 for 278.

Carrollton Nips Indians In Eighth

Carrollton kept in the running for the Buckeye Border Conference baseball title with a 6-5 win over Southern Local at Carrollton Friday.

The winless Indians forced the game into the eighth inning before losing. George Thompson yeilded only two hits, but eight errors hurt Southern. In the seventh the Warriors loaded the bases with none out, but Thompson pitched out of the situation, helped by a double play.

Jack Thompson had a triple and single and Rob Carter two hits for Southern.

E. Liverpool Win Streak Snapped By Bridgeport

East Liverpool's 15-game win streak was snapped Saturday by Bridgeport 9-1 at the Colt League field.

Both teams are set for the state baseball finals this weekend, the Potters in AA and Bridgeport in A.

The game was tied 1-1 going into the seventh when the visitors exploded for eight runs on eight hits and several errors. Jim Musuraca took the loss, his first of the year. The Potters are now 16-3 overall. Bill Montgomery hurled the first four innings.

Dan Cunningham had two doubles, Jim Massey two hits and Randy McVay a double.

Coach Jim Potts noted that the team had not been able to practice all week because the field was not ready and the players were not sharp.

Foyt Gains Indy Pole, Andretti, Unser Next

By ERIC PREWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The emphasis is back on the drivers for this year's Indianapolis 500, with A.J. Foyt driving from the pole position for a record fourth victory in the Memorial Day race.

The turbine car, which came close to winning the last two years, and part of the 500's international flavor disappeared Sunday as the starting field of 33 cars was completed.

This year's only turbine entry qualified at 156.440 miles per hour, four m.p.h. slower than any other car, and it was only a matter of time until it was bumped from the field.

Foyt won the pole with a speed of 170.568 m.p.h.

The number of foreign drivers in this year's race shrank to two when the builder and designer of the Lotus cars, Colin Chapman of Britain, withdrew the last of the Lotuses, driven by Jochen Rindt of Austria and 1966 Indy winner Graham Hill of Britain. They made no qualifying attempts.

"It's tragic, I think," said Hill. "Lotus put so much time into these cars."

Chapman said the Lotuses were withdrawn because of concern over the safety of their wheel hubs.

Foyt, surprised at winning the pole Saturday despite trouble in his car's exhaust system, said, "With a little lady luck we're in good shape."

He was joined in the front row by two-time pole sitter Mario Andretti and defending champion Bobby Unser. Andretti, from Nazareth, Pa., qualified in 169.851 m.p.h. and Unser, the Albuquerque, N.M., driver, who won from the third spot last year, had a 169.683.

The second row drivers, who posted speeds of 168 m.p.h., are led by Mark Donohue of Media, Pa., a highly regarded Indy rookie with an Ivy League and sports car background.

McCluskey is driving one of the three cars entered by owner-driver Foyt. George Snider of Bakersfield, Calif., put the other car in the 15th starting spot to give the team a 3-for-3 record.

In contrast, STP magnate Andy Granatelli of Chicago, got only three of his 11 entries in. The Lotuses were among the STP cars.

Andretti, Granatelli's main hope, demolished another Lotus last week when a hub broke off and switched to an older car with a Brawner Hawk chasis and turbo-charged Ford engine.

Foyt, whose car also is turbo-Ford powered, looked forward to the Friday race with the observation that "Mario will fight you till the end. He's worse than me."

"I didn't think I had a chance for the pole until Mario qualified at 169," Foyt said.

Unser and Donohue both have Lola cars with turbocharged Offenhauser engines. In all, the field has 11 turbo-Fords, 19 turbo-Offys, Dan Gurney's stock block Ford engine and the two Australian-made Repco engines in Brabham cars.

Billy Vukovich, last year's Rookie of the Year, was the fastest qualifier Sunday, at 164.843 m.p.h., as the last eight spots were filled. All qualifying was done over the weekend, due to the rainout of the scheduled first weekend of trials.

Cleveland Kennedy, Arcanum Track Titlist

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The record throng of 17,500 that watched the state high school track meet Saturday will long remember the 62nd event for its spectacular performances.

Cleveland Kennedy and Arcanum saved the drama for the final event before claiming the Class AA and Class A championships.

But individual heroics were the order of the day, particularly by the meet's outstanding participants, Reggie McAfee of Cincinnati Courter Tech and Dan Zoeller of Tipp City Bethel.

And in the wake of nine new meet records was the little noted fact that Cleveland Glenville, which saw its four-year reign as AA king finally end, failed to score a single point.

McAfee, the state cross-country champ, was overpowering with sensational triumphs in the 880 and mile run. He sped the half mile in 1:52.5 shattering the old record of 1:54.4 by James Epps of Cleveland Kennedy in 1967 and covered the mile in 4:08.5 breaking the mark of 4:17.9 by Wes Brock of Toledo Libbey in 1967. Both performances established new all-time Ohio standards.

Zoeller, the defending championship in the Class A mile run, won his specialty in the record time of 4:17.7, eclipsing the former mark of 4:19.3 by Bob Daniels of Sunbury Big Walnut in 1967.

That wasn't enough for the long-haired blond who came right back with a record 1:55.7 in the 880 to better the 1:57.6 by Brian Peppler of Ada last year.

There were two other double winners. Upper Arlington's Dennis Dicke swept to victory in the 220 and 440 while Rich Benning came within one race of capturing the small school title for Yellow Springs.

Benning, the defending 220 king, won that event again and also copped the 100 with a record 9.7 clocking. He also placed fifth in the high jump for all his team's 13 points and was within a whisker of becoming the first athlete to single-handedly win a state championship since Craig Wallace turned the feat for Dayton Dunbar in 1964.

But Arcanum, which only two months ago won the Class A basketball crown, came through with a clutch victory in the mile relay to nail the title with 17 points, one more than Middletown Madison.

The two schools virtually finished in a dead heat in the final event, both setting records with a time of 3:25.4. But Arcanum barely nipped Madison to the tape for the championship.

Basketball stars Jim Troutwine and Steve Christ were instrumental in Arcanum's title thrust. Troutwine won the high jump while Christ finished fourth in that event and third in the shot put.

Kennedy, the premeet favorite, got a victory from Bob Douglas in the 180 yard low hurdles and a second place from Douglas in the 100 yard dash.

Then the fighting Eagles' crack mile relay combo of Luther Sharp, Barry Alvis, Jim Lawrence and Asbery Wilkerson stepped the final event in 3:19.8 for the points that locked up the title.

In the Class AA runnerup spot were Dayton Roosevelt and Upper Arlington each with 13 points while Mansfield Senior and Cincinnati Courter Tech tallied 12 apiece. Sandusky scored 10.

Roosevelt's star hurdler and springer Olden Wallace, trying to duplicate the performance of his older brother Craig five years ago, finished first in the century, second in the 120 highs and third in the 180 lows. It was not enough.

Third place in Class A went to Yellow Springs with 13 points followed by Bethel with 12, Woodmore Elmore with 11 and West Muskingum and Unioto with 10.

Other records were set by Tony Wilson of Columbus Franklin Heights in the high jump with a 6-7, breaking the 6-6¾ set by Jack Tobik of Cleveland Brush in 1967; Dave Chesebrough of Cleveland Heights with a 9:16.8 in the two mile, topping the 9:27.0 established by Les Nagy of Niles last year; and Ron Seiter of Marion Pleasant Local in the Class A pole vault with a 14¾ effort, breaking the 14 feet made by John Worcester of Wellington in 1968.

Duane Hill, who came out of a sick bed, defended his title for Mansfield Senior in the 120 high hurdles with a 14.1 while Jeff Linta of Mansfield Malabar became the third member of his family to cop the pole vault with a 14-6 in AA. His father John won the event in 1939 and his older brother, John Jr., scored in 1963 and 1964.

Three defending champs failed to finish in the top five. Nagy missed in the two-mile; Larry Starks of Berea in the low hurdles and Dave Rather of Sandusky in the long jump.

Foster Whips Kendall; Benvenuti Meets Tiger

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Nino Benvenuti, the world middleweight champion, was rated a 2-1 favorite to whip 39-year-old Dick Tiger of Biafra in a nontitle 10-round fight tonight that could earn the winner a shot at Bob Foster's light heavyweight title.

Tiger, the former middleweight and light heavyweight king who lost the 175-pound division crown to Foster on a fourth-round knockout, is very anxious to get a return crack at the only man to knock him out.

Benvenuti, 31, handsome and rich, and doubling as a gun slinger in European-made western movies, has expressed interest in moving up against Foster and for a possible purse of $150,000 to $200,000.

But he may not be as enthusiastic now after watching the towering, hard-hitting Foster demolish rugged, cement-jawed Andy Kendall in the fourth round of a televised title fight at West Springfield, Mass., Saturday afternoon.

Kendall, the No. 1 light heavyweight contender from Portland, Ore., never had been floored until the 6-foot-3½ Foster dropped him and stopped him with a deluge of powerful punches in 1:15 of the fourth.

The 5-foot-11 Italian considers the 5-8 Tiger as a test for his light heavyweight ambitions. He's getting a guarantee of $50,000 while he takes the test at Madison Square Garden. Tiger, who will be 40 on Aug. 14, will collect $35,000.

The Garden expects a crowd of about 12,000 will pay around $150,000 for the scrap that will be telecast to some parts of the country. It will be blacked out in New York. Starting time is 10 p.m., EDT.

"Tiger still is a very tough and dangerous opponent," said Benvenuti. "But I am confident I will beat him. Then we'll see what's next."

The 160-pound division champion expects to weigh about 165 pounds for Tiger. The stocky, muscular African figures to weigh close to the agreed 168-pound limit.

Benvenuti has a 78-2-1 record, including 32 knockouts. Tiger's record is 59-17-3, including 26 knockouts.

"Benvenuti is a good boxer and a good fighter," said Tiger. "I think, however, that I can beat him."

Foster, 30, and manager Mushky Salow will be on hand to root for Benvenuti.

If he wins and agrees to fight us, we don't want nothing to happen to him," said Salow. "We could make a pile of money with him."

Gatrell's Bird Pigeon Winner

A bird owned by Harold Gatrell was the winner in the East Liverpool Homing Pigeon Club race from Sabina, Ohio yesterday.

Vic Giovenco's birds took the next three places, with Pat Connor and Don Coleman's entries grabbing the next two spots.

Next week's race will be from Carrollton, Ky.

The Philadelphia Phillies will be the last National League team to visit San Diego this season. They visit the Padres June 13 for the first of two three-game series.

McLain Wins Seventh; Lonborg Returns With Strong 7

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ Twins Sweep, Take First In West

By DICK COUCH

Jim Lonborg can't hurry and Denny Mclain won't wait, but neither one has forgotten which way to go.

Lonborg, the American League's 1967 Cy Young Award winner, and McLain, his successor last year, pitched seven scoreless innings apiece Sunday as Boston nipped Chicago 1-0 and Detroit trampled California 10-0.

Lonborg, plagued by recurring shoulder trouble that has kept him from pitching a complete game this spring, scattered four hits before Vicente Romo put the wraps on the Red Sox' first shutout in 40 starts.

"I was tempted to try the full nine, but I'm glad it worked out this way," said Lonborg, 3-0, who will attempt to go the distance in his next start. "My shoulder really stiffened up after I left. You just can't do it all in one day."

McLain, who pitched six innings last Thursday in a 7-3 loss to Chicago, bounced back with two days' rest and blanked the hapless Angels on two hits to earn his seventh victory in 11 decisions with mop-up help from John Hiller.

He also won his seventh a year ago on May 25—and went on to an amazing 31-6 finish.

"I never ask a guy to pitch with two days rest," said Tigers Manager Mayo Smith, "but Denny came to me and wanted to pitch. Pitchers like him need a lot of work.

"Besides, he's having a tooth extracted Monday and it'd be worse if he pitched Tuesday."

McLain has pitched 100 innings, tops in the majors, in 13 games—compared to 22 innings in four appearances for Lonborg.

Despite the Red Sox' fifth victory in six games and the Tigers' sixth in seven, neither could pick up ground on Baltimore's torrid East Division leaders, who shaded Oakland 5-3 on Don Buford's two-run eighth inning double and extended their winning streak to five.

The loss, coupled with Minnesota's 2-1, 3-2 doubleheader sweep at New York, dropped Oakland 1½ games behind the pace-setting Twins in the West. Elsewhere, Kansas City edged slumping Washington 3-2 in 12 innings and Seattle beat Cleveland 3-2.

In the National League, Pittsburgh downed San Francisco twice, 2-1 and 6-2; the Chicago Cubs split a twin bill with San Diego, bowing 1-2 before winning 1-0; Atlanta trimmed Philadelphia 4-1; Cincinnati drubbed Montreal 7-3; St. Louis blanked Los Angeles 4-0 and Houston dropped the New York Mets 6-3.

George Scott's fifth inning homer—the first of only two hits off southpaw Tommy John—carried Lonborg and the Red Sox past the White Sox. Romo pitched out of a ninth inning jam after yielding a one-out triple by Duane Josephson and earned his eighth save in 13 appearances with Boston.

Don Wert drove in four runs with a homer and single and Willie Horton and Dick McAuliffe also homered as the Tigers handed California its 10th consecutive loss.

Buford's tie-breaking double, after singles by Chico Salmon and Mark Belanger and a hit batsman filled the bases, sent the Orioles to their 10th victory in 11 games. Boog Powell and Brooks Robinson drilled homers for Baltimore and Mike Hershberger and Danny Cater connected for the A's, who have lost six in a row.

Minnesota's Dave Boswell hurled a three-hitter and doubled to touch off a two-run seventh inning rally in the opener at Yankee Stadium before a Ball Day crowd of 57,445—biggest in the majors this year.

Harmon Killebrew delivered the winning run with a sacrifice fly and also knocked in the deciding run in the nightcap with a seventh inning single. Rookie Dick Woodson blanked the Yanks on four hits until the ninth, when he needed relief help from Ron Perranoski.

Tommy Harper stole three bases before drawing a bases-loaded walk in the eighth to force in the tie-breaking run and cap a two-run Seattle comeback. Lee Maye's sixth inning homer accounted for both Cleveland runs.

Beaver Local Forfeits Game

Beaver Local was forced to forfeit to Springfield Friday because the umpires, contracted for by the Beavers, failed to show up.

The forfeit loss was the third in league play for Beaver Local, virtually eliminating them from Buckeye Border Conference title contention.

It is likely that no more games will be played by Beaver Local.

Beaver Local Golfers Defeat Springfield

Dave Bentz had a 45 and John Torma 50 for the Beavers.

The victory gave Beaver Local a 15-4 record.

It was the third straight photo finish for Burch and Rokeby, and the first two really hurt—Arts and Letters lost the Kentucky Derby by a neck to Majestic Prince and then bowed to the Prince by a head in the Preakness.

"It's been a long time since we've been here," Burch said in the winner's circle after Amerigo Lady held off Harem Lady's furious stretch drive.

Favored Amerigo Lady, who became the first double winner of the Top Flight, carried 123 pounds including Manny Ycaza over the 1⅛ miles in 1:50 2-5 for a winning mutuel payoff of $4.60. The 5-year-old mare toted 119 to victory last year.

Harem Lady, 108, was 1½ ahead of Treacherous, 113, with Heartland, topweighted at 125, fifth in the field of six.

In other national features, Spring Double won the $45,250 Camden Handicap at Garden State Park, Czare Alexander scored in the $40,100 John R. Macomber Memorial Handicap at Suffolk Downs, Desert Law took the $33,250 Milady Handicap at Hollywood Park, Fast Hilarious won the $27,150 Marshall Field Memorial Handicap at Arlington Park and Time to Leave took the $15,000-added Campanile Handicap at Golden Gate Fields.

Next Memorial Day weekend will be a busy one in racing with such events as the $100,000 added Jersey Derby at Garden State, and the $100,000-added Metropolitan Handicap at Aqueduct Friday and the $75,000-added Mother Goose at Aqueduct Saturday.

Youths Penalized For Car Damage

Two area youths were fined $300 and costs in Mayor William Daugherty's court in Wellsville Saturday in a brick-throwing incident which reportedly resulted because they "didn't like somebody's looks."

Walter T. Jarvis of Chester and John O. Madden of Broadway, Wellsville, both 19, were arrested last Wednesday by officer Charles Amato as they were driving on Main St. Amato said he had passed their car, traveling in the opposite direction, when he noticed a parked car with a smashed windshield and rear window. Acting on a hunch, he turned around and gave pursuit.

Mayor Daugherty told the pair he'd suspend $75 of their fines if they'd make restitution of $151.

Also in court action in Wellsville Saturday Alice Powell of Lisbon Road was fined $58.70 for interferring with a police officer and $25 for disorderly conduct.

Harold W. Farnsworth of East Liverpool was fined $25 for "squealing" tires, Edward S. Allen Jr. of Lakewood forfeited a $25 bond on a speeding charge.

Clyde Moore of Chester Ave., Wellsville, arrested May 19, was fined $50 and costs on a disorderly conduct charge. He and Kenneth Mushrush of Washington Ave., Wellsville, were arrested for fighting. Mushrush was charged court costs.

Carlos Wins Two Races At Modesto

MODESTO, Calif. (AP)—John Carlos continues to outclass the current available sprint crop and his best could be yet to come.

The fleet San Jose State star won honors Saturday as the outstanding athlete at the California Relays when he won the 100-meter and 220-yard dashes and anchored the victorious 440-yard relay team.

Those honors as the best in the meeting come on almost a weekly basis for the controversial Olympian. In the West Coast Relays he equalled the world record for the 100-yard dash at 9.1 seconds. He says he wants to break nine flat.

At Modesto, when Charlie Greene and Lennox Miller pulled out, Carlos won the 100-meter race in 10.1 seconds, two-tenths off the world mark yet he seemed to be almost eased up during the latter stages. He won the 220 in 20.4 and the relay team posted a creditable 39.7.

San Jose was forced out of the half-mile relay when Ronnie Ray Smith suffered a strained muscle in an earlier race. Houston's Striders took the 880 relay in 1:23.8.

Carlos runs next in the Kennedy Memorial Games at Berkeley on Saturday and again puts the 100-yard record in jeopardy.

Gusty winds hampered the runners in the California Relays and the only three meet records came in field events. Finland's Jorma Kinnunen, the Olympic silver medalist, threw the javelin 270 feet 11 inches, Neil Steinhauer put the shot 66-5½ and Otis Burrell cleared the high jump at 7-1¾.

Youths May Be Charged With Murder

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP) — Two youths, whose escape from the Fairfield School for Boys led to the fatal shooitng Saturday of a security guard, face possible first - degree murder charges.

Sheriff's Deputy Dan Berry said the youths would be charged as delinquents in Juvenile Court today with facts to be presented that would constitute first - degree murder if committed by an adult.

The boys, Steve Patrick, 15, and Roger D. Craft, 17, both of Marion, fled from the school Friday afternoon.

Guards began tracking them. As they closed in on the escapees early Saturday along the banks of a creek, a shot rang out and Charles Marion, 23, of Amanda, an institution guard, fell dead.

Patrick was captured immediately after the shooting, but Craft fled further into the woods.

After daylight, guards, assisted by sheriff's deputies, highway patrolmen and other law enforcement officers from the area, cornered Craft on a hilltop overlooking the Sugar Grove area.

Craft then surrendered.

Authorities said the youths broke into a cabin after their escape and took a .22 caliber rifle and three boxes of shells.

Craft had a rifle in his possession when captured.

Defense Opens In Kidnap Trial

DECATUR, Ga. (AP) — The defense begins its case today in the kidnap trial of Gary Steven Krist, and attorneys said there is "a pretty good chance" the bearded defendant may take the stand.

James R. Venable, one of two court-appointed attorneys representing the 24-year-old Krist, said Sunday the defense still has not fully determined its strategy and would make no firm decision until shortly before the trial resumes in DeKalb County Superior Court.

Krist, former boat mechanic and convicted car thief, is charged in the bizarre kidnaping Emory University coed Barbara Jane Mackle. He faces a possible death penalty if convicted.

Miss Mackle, 20, daughter of millionaire Florida land developer Robert F. Mackle, was abducted from a Decatur motel last Dec. 17 She was buried in a coffin-like box 83 hours and was freed only after her kidnapers had successfully negotiated with her father for a $500,000 ransom.

Waterford Has Twinbill On Holiday

Waterford Park will stage its first "Bargain Bill" of the season when an 18-race program is presented on May 30, Memorial Day.

The special racing program will get under way at 1:30 Friday afternoon.

Racing Secretary Walter Fischer and his staff are already hard at work putting the holiday program together. Fischer is hopeful that a number of the races which will be run during the daylight portion of the card will be contested over the infield grass course.

Most of the races on the program will be run under daylight conditions, a departure from the usual night time programs put on by Waterford Park.

The afternoon portion of the program will be made up of 10 races. As usual, there will be a Daily Double and four perfecta events. There will also be a Daily Double offered on the 11th and 12th races, plus another trio of perfectas.

One admission covers the entire racing program.

Ex-Convict Found Dead In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — The body of a 34-year-old Cincinnati man was found Sunday between two vacant buildings here.

James A. Pope, who had been released recently from the Ohio Penitentiary, was shot in the chest with a .22 caliber weapon. Police said there are no suspects in the case and the gun has not been found.

Foyt Gains Indy Pole, Andretti, Unser Next

By ERIC PREWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The emphasis is back on the drivers for this year's Indianapolis 500, with A.J. Foyt driving from the pole position for a record fourth victory in the Memorial Day race.

The turbine car, which came close to winning the last two years, and part of the 500's international flavor disappeared Sunday as the starting field of 33 cars was completed.

This year's only turbine entry qualified at 156.440 miles per hour, four m.p.h. slower than any other car, and it was only a matter of time until it was bumped from the field.

Foyt won the pole with a speed of 170.568 m.p.h.

The number of foreign drivers in this year's race shrank to two when the builder and designer of the Lotus cars, Colin Chapman of Britain, withdrew the last of the Lotuses, driven by Jochen Rindt of Austria and 1966 Indy winner Graham Hill of Britain. They made no qualifying attempts.

"It's tragic, I think," said Hill. "Lotus put so much time into these cars."

Chapman said the Lotuses were withdrawn because of concern over the safety of their wheel hubs.

Foyt, surprised at winning the pole Saturday despite trouble in his car's exhaust system, said, "With a little lady luck we're in good shape."

He was joined in the front row by two-time pole sitter Mario Andretti and defending champion Bobby Unser. Andretti, from Nazareth, Pa., qualified in 169.851 m.p.h. and Unser, the Albuquerque, N.M., driver, who won from the third spot last year, had a 169.683.

The second row drivers, who posted speeds of 168 m.p.h., are led by Mark Donohue of Media, Pa., a highly regarded Indy rookie with an Ivy League and sports car background.

McCluskey is driving one of the three cars entered by owner-driver Foyt. George Snider of Bakersfield, Calif., put the other car in the 15th starting spot to give the team a 3-for-3 record.

In contrast, STP magnate Andy Granatelli of Chicago, got only three of his 11 entries in. The Lotuses were among the STP cars.

Andretti, Granatelli's main hope, demolished another Lotus last week when a hub broke off and switched to an older car with a Brawner Hawk chasis and turbo-charged Ford engine.

Foyt, whose car also is turbo-Ford powered, looked forward to the Friday race with the observation that "Mario will fight you till the end. He's worse than me."

"I didn't think I had a chance for the pole until Mario qualified at 169," Foyt said.

Unser and Donohue both have Lola cars with turbocharged Offenhauser engines. In all, the field has 11 turbo-Fords, 19 turbo-Offys, Dan Gurney's stock block Ford engine and the two Australian-made Repco engines in Brabham cars.

Billy Vukovich, last year's Rookie of the Year, was the fastest qualifier Sunday, at 164.843 m.p.h., as the last eight spots were filled. All qualifying was done over the weekend, due to the rainout of the scheduled first weekend of trials.

Cleveland Kennedy, Arcanum Track Titlist

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The record throng of 17,500 that watched the state high school track meet Saturday will long remember the 62nd event for its spectacular performances.

Cleveland Kennedy and Arcanum saved the drama for the final event before claiming the Class AA and Class A championships.

But individual heroics were the order of the day, particularly by the meet's outstanding participants, Reggie McAfee of Cincinnati Courter Tech and Dan Zoeller of Tipp City Bethel.

And in the wake of nine new meet records was the little noted fact that Cleveland Glenville, which saw its four-year reign as AA king finally end, failed to score a single point.

McAfee, the state cross-country champ, was overpowering with sensational triumphs in the 880 and mile run. He sped the half mile in 1:52.5 shattering the old record of 1:54.4 by James Epps of Cleveland Kennedy in 1967 and covered the mile in 4:08.5 breaking the mark of 4:17.9 by Wes Brock of Toledo Libbey in 1967. Both performances established new all-time Ohio standards.

Zoeller, the defending championship in the Class A mile run, won his specialty in the record time of 4:17.7, eclipsing the former mark of 4:19.3 by Bob Daniels of Sunbury Big Walnut in 1967.

That wasn't enough for the long-haired blond who came right back with a record 1:55.7 in the 880 to better the 1:57.6 by Brian Peppler of Ada last year.

There were two other double winners. Upper Arlington's Dennis Dicke swept to victory in the 220 and 440 while Rich Benning came within one race of capturing the small school title for Yellow Springs.

Benning, the defending 220 king, won that event again and also copped the 100 with a record 9.7 clocking. He also placed fifth in the high jump for all his team's 13 points and was within a whisker of becoming the first athlete to single-handedly win a state championship since Craig Wallace turned the feat for Dayton Dunbar in 1964.

But Arcanum, which only two months ago won the Class A basketball crown, came through with a clutch victory in the mile relay to nail the title with 17 points, one more than Middletown Madison.

The two schools virtually finished in a dead heat in the final event, both setting records with a time of 3:25.4. But Arcanum barely nipped Madison to the tape for the championship.

Basketball stars Jim Troutwine and Steve Christ were instrumental in Arcanum's title thrust. Troutwine won the high jump while Christ finished fourth in that event and third in the shot put.

Kennedy, the premeet favorite, got a victory from Bob Douglas in the 180 yard low hurdles and a second place from Douglas in the 100 yard dash.

Then the fighting Eagles' crack mile relay combo of Luther Sharp, Barry Alvis, Jim Lawrence and Asbery Wilkerson stepped the final event in 3:19.8 for the points that locked up the title.

In the Class AA runnerup spot were Dayton Roosevelt and Upper Arlington each with 13 points while Mansfield Senior and Cincinnati Courter Tech tallied 12 apiece. Sandusky scored 10.

Roosevelt's star hurdler and springer Olden Wallace, trying to duplicate the performance of his older brother Craig five years ago, finished first in the century, second in the 120 highs and third in the 180 lows. It was not enough.

Third place in Class A went to Yellow Springs with 13 points followed by Bethel with 12, Woodmore Elmore with 11 and West Muskingum and Unioto with 10.

Other records were set by Tony Wilson of Columbus Franklin Heights in the high jump with a 6-7, breaking the 6-6¾ set by Jack Tobik of Cleveland Brush in 1967; Dave Chesebrough of Cleveland Heights with a 9:16.8 in the two mile, topping the 9:27.0 established by Les Nagy of Niles last year; and Ron Seiter of Marion Pleasant Local in the Class A pole vault with a 14¾ effort, breaking the 14 feet made by John Worcester of Wellington in 1968.

Duane Hill, who came out of a sick bed, defended his title for Mansfield Senior in the 120 high hurdles with a 14.1 while Jeff Linta of Mansfield Malabar became the third member of his family to cop the pole vault with a 14-6 in AA. His father John won the event in 1939 and his older brother, John Jr., scored in 1963 and 1964.

Three defending champs failed to finish in the top five. Nagy missed in the two-mile; Larry Starks of Berea in the low hurdles and Dave Rather of Sandusky in the long jump.

Foster Whips Kendall; Benvenuti Meets Tiger

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Nino Benvenuti, the world middleweight champion, was rated a 2-1 favorite to whip 39-year-old Dick Tiger of Biafra in a nontitle 10-round fight tonight that could earn the winner a shot at Bob Foster's light heavyweight title.

Tiger, the former middleweight and light heavyweight king who lost the 175-pound division crown to Foster on a fourth-round knockout, is very anxious to get a return crack at the only man to knock him out.

Benvenuti, 31, handsome and rich, and doubling as a gun slinger in European-made western movies, has expressed interest in moving up against Foster and for a possible purse of $150,000 to $200,000.

But he may not be as enthusiastic now after watching the towering, hard-hitting Foster demolish rugged, cement-jawed Andy Kendall in the fourth round of a televised title fight at West Springfield, Mass., Saturday afternoon.

Kendall, the No. 1 light heavyweight contender from Portland, Ore., never had been floored until the 6-foot-3½ Foster dropped him and stopped him with a deluge of powerful punches in 1:15 of the fourth.

The 5-foot-11 Italian considers the 5-8 Tiger as a test for his light heavyweight ambitions. He's getting a guarantee of $50,000 while he takes the test at Madison Square Garden. Tiger, who will be 40 on Aug. 14, will collect $35,000.

The Garden expects a crowd of about 12,000 will pay around $150,000 for the scrap that will be telecast to some parts of the country. It will be blacked out in New York. Starting time is 10 p.m., EDT.

"Tiger still is a very tough and dangerous opponent," said Benvenuti. "But I am confident I will beat him. Then we'll see what's next."

The 160-pound division champion expects to weigh about 165 pounds for Tiger. The stocky, muscular African figures to weigh close to the agreed 168-pound limit.

Benvenuti has a 78-2-1 record, including 32 knockouts. Tiger's record is 59-17-3, including 26 knockouts.

"Benvenuti is a good boxer and a good fighter," said Tiger. "I think, however, that I can beat him."

Foster, 30, and manager Mushky Salow will be on hand to root for Benvenuti.

If he wins and agrees to fight us, we don't want nothing to happen to him," said Salow. "We could make a pile of money with him."

Gatrell's Bird Pigeon Winner

Vic Giovenco's birds took the next three places, with Pat Connor and Don Coleman's entries grabbing the next two spots.

Next week's race will be from Carrollton, Ky.

The Philadelphia Phillies will be the last National League team to visit San Diego this season. They visit the Padres June 13 for the first of two three-game series.

AN ORDINANCE DETERMINING THE COST AND EXPENSE FOR THE YEAR 1969-70 FOR THE IMPROVEMENT OF CERTAIN DESIGNATED STREETS IN THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO, BETWEEN CERTAIN TERMINI BY LIGHTING WITH FLUORESCENT LAMPS, AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

WHEREAS, this Council by Ordinance No. 26, 1963, passed on the 12th day of July, 1963, levied special assessments for the improvement of certain designated streets in the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, between certain termini by lighting with fluorescent lamps, which ordinance provided that assessments thereby levied for years after the first year are to be adjusted at the beginning of each such succeeding year, in accordance with a formula set forth in Section 1 of said Ordinance; and

WHEREAS, this Council is now able to determine the cost and expense of said improvement for the sixth year thereof,

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO:

SECTION 1. That in connection with the levying of special assessments for the year 1969-70 for the improvement of certain designated streets of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, between certain termini by lighting the same with fluorescent lamps, and in accordance with the provisions of Section 1 of Ordinance No. 26, 1963, it is hereby found and determined that the cost and expense of said improvement for the year 1969-70 amounts in the aggregate to $7,739.93 and that by application of the formula for determining the adjusted rate of assessment per front foot for the year 1969-70 as set out in Section 1 of said Ordinance, the assessments for said year 1969-70 are at the rate of $1.359 per front foot, which rate does not exceed $1.68 per front foot, the limit provided in said Ordinance, and which rate shall be applied to each assessable front foot to determine the 1969-70 assessment for each of the lots and lands assessed by the aforesaid Ordinance.

SECTION 2. That the assessment against each lot or parcel of land shall be payable in cash within 30 days after July 1, 1969, and all assessments and installments thereof remaining unpaid at that time shall be certified by the Clerk of this Council to the County Auditor as provided by law to be placed by him on the tax duplicate and collected as other taxes are collected.

SECTION 3. That the Clerk of this Council shall forthwith compute the assessments for the year 1969-70 and shall then place the same on file with this Council and thereafter cause a notice of the passage of this ordinance and the filing of such 1969-70 assessments to be published once in a newspaper of general circulation in this City and to continue on file in his office said list of assessment for the year 1969-70.

SECTION 4. That the Clerk of the Council is hereby directed to deliver a certified copy of this ordinance to the County Auditor within twenty (20) days after its passage.

SECTION 5. That this Ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety and for the further reason that it is immediately necessary to make payable the assessments herein determined in order that the affected property owners will be afforded the full 30 days from and after July 1, 1969, or the paying thereof in cash as contemplated by assessing Ordinance No. 26, 1963, passed July 12, 1963, and thus avoid the penalties concomitant with the collection thereof by the County Auditor; wherefore, this Ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and immediately after its passage and approval by the Mayor.

Passed this 19th day of May, 1969.

It was the third straight photo finish for Burch and Rokeby, and the first two really hurt—Arts and Letters lost the Kentucky Derby by a neck to Majestic Prince and then bowed to the Prince by a head in the Preakness.

"It's been a long time since we've been here," Burch said in the winner's circle after Amerigo Lady held off Harem Lady's furious stretch drive.

Favored Amerigo Lady, who became the first double winner of the Top Flight, carried 123 pounds including Manny Ycaza over the 1⅛ miles in 1:50 2-5 for a winning mutuel payoff of $4.60. The 5-year-old mare toted 119 to victory last year.

Harem Lady, 108, was 1½ ahead of Treacherous, 113, with Heartland, topweighted at 125, fifth in the field of six.

In other national features, Spring Double won the $45,250 Camden Handicap at Garden State Park, Czare Alexander scored in the $40,100 John R. Macomber Memorial Handicap at Suffolk Downs, Desert Law took the $33,250 Milady Handicap at Hollywood Park, Fast Hilarious won the $27,150 Marshall Field Memorial Handicap at Arlington Park and Time to Leave took the $15,000-added Campanile Handicap at Golden Gate Fields.

Next Memorial Day weekend will be a busy one in racing with such events as the $100,000 added Jersey Derby at Garden State, and the $100,000-added Metropolitan Handicap at Aqueduct Friday and the $75,000-added Mother Goose at Aqueduct Saturday.

Youths Penalized For Car Damage

Two area youths were fined $300 and costs in Mayor William Daugherty's court in Wellsville Saturday in a brick-throwing incident which reportedly resulted because they "didn't like somebody's looks."

Walter T. Jarvis of Chester and John O. Madden of Broadway, Wellsville, both 19, were arrested last Wednesday by officer Charles Amato as they were driving on Main St. Amato said he had passed their car, traveling in the opposite direction, when he noticed a parked car with a smashed windshield and rear window. Acting on a hunch, he turned around and gave pursuit.

Mayor Daugherty told the pair he'd suspend $75 of their fines if they'd make restitution of $151.

Also in court action in Wellsville Saturday Alice Powell of Lisbon Road was fined $58.70 for interferring with a police officer and $25 for disorderly conduct.

Harold W. Farnsworth of East Liverpool was fined $25 for "squealing" tires, Edward S. Allen Jr. of Lakewood forfeited a $25 bond on a speeding charge.

Clyde Moore of Chester Ave., Wellsville, arrested May 19, was fined $50 and costs on a disorderly conduct charge. He and Kenneth Mushrush of Washington Ave., Wellsville, were arrested for fighting. Mushrush was charged court costs.

Carlos Wins Two Races At Modesto

MODESTO, Calif. (AP)—John Carlos continues to outclass the current available sprint crop and his best could be yet to come.

The fleet San Jose State star won honors Saturday as the outstanding athlete at the California Relays when he won the 100-meter and 220-yard dashes and anchored the victorious 440-yard relay team.

Those honors as the best in the meeting come on almost a weekly basis for the controversial Olympian. In the West Coast Relays he equalled the world record for the 100-yard dash at 9.1 seconds. He says he wants to break nine flat.

At Modesto, when Charlie Greene and Lennox Miller pulled out, Carlos won the 100-meter race in 10.1 seconds, two-tenths off the world mark yet he seemed to be almost eased up during the latter stages. He won the 220 in 20.4 and the relay team posted a creditable 39.7.

San Jose was forced out of the half-mile relay when Ronnie Ray Smith suffered a strained muscle in an earlier race. Houston's Striders took the 880 relay in 1:23.8.

Carlos runs next in the Kennedy Memorial Games at Berkeley on Saturday and again puts the 100-yard record in jeopardy.

Gusty winds hampered the runners in the California Relays and the only three meet records came in field events. Finland's Jorma Kinnunen, the Olympic silver medalist, threw the javelin 270 feet 11 inches, Neil Steinhauer put the shot 66-5½ and Otis Burrell cleared the high jump at 7-1¾.

Youths May Be Charged With Murder

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP) — Two youths, whose escape from the Fairfield School for Boys led to the fatal shooitng Saturday of a security guard, face possible first - degree murder charges.

Sheriff's Deputy Dan Berry said the youths would be charged as delinquents in Juvenile Court today with facts to be presented that would constitute first - degree murder if committed by an adult.

The boys, Steve Patrick, 15, and Roger D. Craft, 17, both of Marion, fled from the school Friday afternoon.

Guards began tracking them. As they closed in on the escapees early Saturday along the banks of a creek, a shot rang out and Charles Marion, 23, of Amanda, an institution guard, fell dead.

Patrick was captured immediately after the shooting, but Craft fled further into the woods.

After daylight, guards, assisted by sheriff's deputies, highway patrolmen and other law enforcement officers from the area, cornered Craft on a hilltop overlooking the Sugar Grove area.

Craft then surrendered.

Authorities said the youths broke into a cabin after their escape and took a .22 caliber rifle and three boxes of shells.

Craft had a rifle in his possession when captured.

Defense Opens In Kidnap Trial

DECATUR, Ga. (AP) — The defense begins its case today in the kidnap trial of Gary Steven Krist, and attorneys said there is "a pretty good chance" the bearded defendant may take the stand.

James R. Venable, one of two court-appointed attorneys representing the 24-year-old Krist, said Sunday the defense still has not fully determined its strategy and would make no firm decision until shortly before the trial resumes in DeKalb County Superior Court.

Krist, former boat mechanic and convicted car thief, is charged in the bizarre kidnaping Emory University coed Barbara Jane Mackle. He faces a possible death penalty if convicted.

Miss Mackle, 20, daughter of millionaire Florida land developer Robert F. Mackle, was abducted from a Decatur motel last Dec. 17 She was buried in a coffin-like box 83 hours and was freed only after her kidnapers had successfully negotiated with her father for a $500,000 ransom.

Yesterday's Stars

BATTING — Lee May, Reds, smashed two home runs for the second straight day and drove in four runs leading Cincinnati to a 7-2 victory over the Montreal Expos.

PITCHING — Bob Gibson, Cardinals, limited Los Angeles to six hits and struck out nine, pitching St. Louis to a 4-0 victory over the Dodgers.

Burns Claim Man

CINCINNATI (AP) — John Hoelscher, who has been hospitalized since April 17 with burns suffered in a fire at his home, died Sunday at General Hospital. The 79-year-old man lived in the Hyde Park section.

Waterford Has Twinbill On Holiday

Waterford Park will stage its first "Bargain Bill" of the season when an 18-race program is presented on May 30, Memorial Day.

The special racing program will get under way at 1:30 Friday afternoon.

Racing Secretary Walter Fischer and his staff are already hard at work putting the holiday program together. Fischer is hopeful that a number of the races which will be run during the daylight portion of the card will be contested over the infield grass course.

Most of the races on the program will be run under daylight conditions, a departure from the usual night time programs put on by Waterford Park.

The afternoon portion of the program will be made up of 10 races. As usual, there will be a Daily Double and four perfecta events. There will also be a Daily Double offered on the 11th and 12th races, plus another trio of perfectas.

One admission covers the entire racing program.

Ex-Convict Found Dead In Cincinnati

James A. Pope, who had been released recently from the Ohio Penitentiary, was shot in the chest with a .22 caliber weapon. Police said there are no suspects in the case and the gun has not been found.

Cookie cutters in playing card shapes may be used for bread cutouts for fancy sandwiches.

AN ORDINANCE DETERMINING THE COST AND EXPENSE FOR THE YEAR 1969-70 FOR THE IMPROVEMENT OF CERTAIN DESIGNATED STREETS IN THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO, BETWEEN CERTAIN TERMINI BY LIGHTING WITH FLUORESCENT LAMPS, AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

WHEREAS, this Council by Ordinance No. 26, 1963, passed on the 12th day of July, 1963, levied special assessments for the improvement of certain designated streets in the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, between certain termini by lighting with fluorescent lamps, which ordinance provided that assessments thereby levied for years after the first year are to be adjusted at the beginning of each such succeeding year, in accordance with a formula set forth in Section 1 of said Ordinance; and

WHEREAS, this Council is now able to determine the cost and expense of said improvement for the sixth year thereof,

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO:

SECTION 1. That in connection with the levying of special assessments for the year 1969-70 for the improvement of certain designated streets of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, between certain termini by lighting the same with fluorescent lamps, and in accordance with the provisions of Section 1 of Ordinance No. 26, 1963, it is hereby found and determined that the cost and expense of said improvement for the year 1969-70 amounts in the aggregate to $7,739.93 and that by application of the formula for determining the adjusted rate of assessment per front foot for the year 1969-70 as set out in Section 1 of said Ordinance, the assessments for said year 1969-70 are at the rate of $1.359 per front foot, which rate does not exceed $1.68 per front foot, the limit provided in said Ordinance, and which rate shall be applied to each assessable front foot to determine the 1969-70 assessment for each of the lots and lands assessed by the aforesaid Ordinance.

SECTION 2. That the assessment against each lot or parcel of land shall be payable in cash within 30 days after July 1, 1969, and all assessments and installments thereof remaining unpaid at that time shall be certified by the Clerk of this Council to the County Auditor as provided by law to be placed by him on the tax duplicate and collected as other taxes are collected.

SECTION 3. That the Clerk of this Council shall forthwith compute the assessments for the year 1969-70 and shall then place the same on file with this Council and thereafter cause a notice of the passage of this ordinance and the filing of such 1969-70 assessments to be published once in a newspaper of general circulation in this City and to continue on file in his office said list of assessment for the year 1969-70.

SECTION 4. That the Clerk of the Council is hereby directed to deliver a certified copy of this ordinance to the County Auditor within twenty (20) days after its passage.

SECTION 5. That this Ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety and for the further reason that it is immediately necessary to make payable the assessments herein determined in order that the affected property owners will be afforded the full 30 days from and after July 1, 1969, or the paying thereof in cash as contemplated by assessing Ordinance No. 26, 1963, passed July 12, 1963, and thus avoid the penalties concomitant with the collection thereof by the County Auditor; wherefore, this Ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and immediately after its passage and approval by the Mayor.

Junior Editors Quiz on DAYS

QUESTION: How did the days of the week get their names?

ANSWER: No one can say what particular person named the days. These names came into use in ancient times when many gods were worshipped. The days got their names because each one became sacred to some particular god or goddess. The Anglo-Saxon word monandaeg meant moon's day, so Monday was named for the goddess of the moon. Tuesday was Tyr's day, Tyr being the god of war in ancient Norway. Wednesday was sacred to Odin or Woden, ruler over Valhalla. His two ravens flew around the world every day and brought him the news (too bad he didn't have this newspaper). Odin's famous son Thor, god of thunder and lightning, gave his name to Thor's day, or Thursday. Frigga, Odin's wife, gave us Frigga's day, Friday. She was so wise she knew everything. Saturday comes from the Roman god Saturn, god of harvest. The Romans had a gay festival called a Saturnalia. Among the old European peoples Sunday meant the day of the sun. The sun was always popular in ancient mythology.

(Connie Alexander of Duluth, Minn., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize. You can increase your knowledge and begin an interesting hobby by keeping a scrapbook of Junior Editors articles and drawings.)

Junior Editors Quiz on DAYS

QUESTION: How did the days of the week get their names?

ANSWER: No one can say what particular person named the days. These names came into use in ancient times when many gods were worshipped. The days got their names because each one became sacred to some particular god or goddess. The Anglo-Saxon word monandaeg meant moon's day, so Monday was named for the goddess of the moon. Tuesday was Tyr's day, Tyr being the god of war in ancient Norway. Wednesday was sacred to Odin or Woden, ruler over Valhalla. His two ravens flew around the world every day and brought him the news (too bad he didn't have this newspaper). Odin's famous son Thor, god of thunder and lightning, gave his name to Thor's day, or Thursday. Frigga, Odin's wife, gave us Frigga's day, Friday. She was so wise she knew everything. Saturday comes from the Roman god Saturn, god of harvest. The Romans had a gay festival called a Saturnalia. Among the old European peoples Sunday meant the day of the sun. The sun was always popular in ancient mythology.

The DOCTOR Says

Tests Needed For Tetanus Shot Allergy

A mother writes that about three years ago she took her son, then 12, for his regular tetanus injection. He had a severe reaction and since then she has taken him to a skin specialist who gives him two small tetanus injections two or three hours apart. These are painful and the boy dreads to take them.

Dr. Brandstadt

The mother wonders whether he can be tested to see if he is still allergic to tetanus shots and whether he is likely to be allergic to other immunizing injections.

—:—

BECAUSE OF the increasing number of reported reactions to tetanus toxoid boosters, authorities now recommend a booster not oftener than once every 10 years. This has been shown to maintain an adequate level of immunity. When a person has shown a sensitivity to this toxoid he should be tested with a minute dose of highly diluted material before the booster dose is given.

—:—

A PERSON who is allergic to one immunizing agent is not likely to be allergic to another. A person who is allergic to horse serum, however, cannot take an antitoxin derived from horses and one who is allergic to eggs cannot take a vaccine from chick embryos.

Q—Is giving an infant an immunizing injection against two or more diseases at once as effective as giving them separately? What shots should a baby have and at what age?

A—The combined diphtheria-tetanus - whooping cough vaccine is just as effective as the three taken separately and has the advantage that it avoids making the baby a human pin cushion. A 5-in-1 vaccine that also contains polio and measles vaccine is being tried out and may be available soon.

It is now customary to give the first dose of the 3-in-1 vaccine and the oral polio vaccine at two months of age. At four months the second dose of both is given. At one year, smallpox and measles vaccines are given. This completes the basic immunization program. Smallpox revaccination should be given every three to five years.

Q—Why does my 11-month-old son rock back and forth on his hands and knees? He starts about 4 a.m. every morning and continues until he wakes up. Will he outgrow the habit?

A—We now believe this type of behavior is due to a need for rhythmic activity. It is common in children who are approaching their first birthday. No treatment is necessary and he will outgrow the habit in a year or two.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Mrs. Kenneth Miller, North Babylon, N.Y.

"I wanted a car and foreign cars are hard to fix. So my brother said Maverick was coming, and I waited. It's a great car to learn to drive with. You can park it and drive it so easily. I really love it."

Miss Susan Sara, Bronxville, New York

"We bought the Maverick as a second car when a tree fell on our import. Maverick handles better and feels solid and safe on the road. When I hit a bump in the other car it was like going over a mountain. Maverick really flattens them out and I'm getting 25 miles to the gallon."

Mr. Jack Orben, Computer Specialist, White Plains, New York

"Everybody keeps coming over to look at it. The other night three cars stopped. We thought we had company. Everyone in our neighborhood says for the price it's unbelievable. It looks like it cost much more."

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Cookin' On Both Burners

DEAR HELOISE: It took me quite a while to get used to my new electric stove.

Whenever I wanted to bring something to a boil and then turn it down to a simmer, things either boiled over waiting for the burner to cool, or the pan cooled off too much if I set it off the burner 'til it cooled.

Well, I finally got smart! I turned one burner on high to bring the food to a boil and another burner on simmer. Then just switched burners when the time came.

MARY DEAN.

-:-

Somebody really turned a switch on in your head when you "THINK" up that dilly!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: We keep our heating pad nice and clean by using a baby pillowcase over it. Fits perfectly.

We hold it on with a safety pin (through the case only). When necessary, just remove the case for washing. Sure protects the pad.

MRS. FREILICH.

DEAR HELOISE: We needed a small umbrella for the beach, so we got the old head thinking and came up with the idea of using Dad's worn-out rain umbrella.

We carefully took off the covering to use as a pattern. Then we cut a new cover put of an old shower curtain, sewed a strip about four inches around the edge for a "hangover," and added a fringe all around.

Down at the local hardware store we got a 35-cent clamp to go on the end of it. Now we have an umbrella that can be clamped on the arm of any beach chair — all for only 35 cents!

If you don't have an old umbrella ... make a trip to your Goodwill store and for just a few nickels you can buy one.

Sure is nice, even for patio.

G.M.

DEAR HELOISE: My teenage daughter had trouble with her shoes slipping and wearing out the heel of her nylons. We decided to try a strip of foam weatherstripping that has adhesive on one side.

We cut it to go around the inside of the heelof the shoe, peeled off the backing, then stuck itin the shoe.

No more slipping!

MRS. M.W.M.

Letter Of Laughter

DEAR HELOISE: When my children were small, there were days when they were all in the house and made so much noise I could have screamed. . .

One day I decided, "If you can't beat 'em join 'em."

I got out all my metal lids and some old pans and spoons.

We then put marching records on and spent about ten minutes marching follow-the-leader style — and playing our "instruments."

After all that racket, everyone was glad to have a quiet time. Helped everyone let off steam and even Mother's tensions relaxed too.

Nowadays, whenever I hear a rousing march, it brings back very happy memories.

PEGGY McCALLEN.

DEAR HELOISE: My 18-year-old granddaughter taught me an unusual way to shell an egg. My eggs always came out so messy.

She cracks gently around the egg with the edge of a knife. Then takes each side of the egg in both hands and turns gently in opposite directions.

Do it carefully, as the shell comes off slick as a whistle and can slip out of your hand before you know it.

PAM'S GRANDMOTHER.

DEAR HELOISE: For those who picnic often:

Saves taking a knife to have to wash and take back home.

Instructors In Chicago Approve Pact

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago's public school teachers have voted 9,776 to 585 to accept a new contract which ends a two-day strike and makes them the highest paid teachers in major U.S. cities.

The agreement was worked out last week by the Chicago Teachers Union and the Board of Education in the office of Mayor Richard J. Daley.

"We are telling our teachers to go back to school Monday," John E. Desmond, CTU president, said Sunday in announcing the results of the voting.

The city's 523 elemtntary and high schools with 600,000 pupils were closed Thursday and Friday by the first teacher strike in history in Chicago's public schools. About 75 per cent of the 23,000 teachers stayed home.

Acceptance of the one-year contract was recommended by both Desmond and the union's governing House of Representatives.

The contract gives teachers a $100-a-month raise and provides fringe benefits and improved working conditions.

Starting teachers will receive $8,400 annually effective in September. Detroit ranks second in starting teachers' salaries with $7,500.

The contract also specifies there will be no layoffs for regularly assigned teachers or other staff members, a reduction of class sizes, no cutback in the 1969 summer school program, no decrease in educational programs, and that full-time substitute teachers will be certified after three years of satisfactory teaching without having to pass any tests.

The teachers had sought a $150-a-month pay increase.

2 Seen Leading Democratic Slate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — John J. Gilligan and Robert E. Sweeney, two familiar figures in Ohio politics, appear to be the leading candidates for the 1970 Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Former Congressman Gilligan, a red-haired Cincinnatian who unsuccessfully sought a U. S. Senate seat last November, seemed to be the No. 1 contender following a statewide party policy meeting here Saturday.

Running a close second was Clevelander Sweeney, also a former Congressman.

Besides having served terms in the U.S. House, Gilligan and Sweeney have something else in common—both were beaten by current U.S. Sen. William B. Saxbe.

"I feel very safe and secure in our Maverick, little as it is. It really holds the road. My husband bought it for me as a shopping car, but every morning, he says, well I guess I'll take the Maverick to work today."

Mrs. Kenneth Miller, North Babylon, N.Y.

"I wanted a car and foreign cars are hard to fix. So my brother said Maverick was coming, and I waited. It's a great car to learn to drive with. You can park it and drive it so easily. I really love it."

Miss Susan Sara, Bronxville, New York

"We bought the Maverick as a second car when a tree fell on our import. Maverick handles better and feels solid and safe on the road. When I hit a bump in the other car it was like going over a mountain. Maverick really flattens them out and I'm getting 25 miles to the gallon."

Mr. Jack Orben, Computer Specialist, White Plains, New York

"Everybody keeps coming over to look at it. The other night three cars stopped. We thought we had company. Everyone in our neighborhood says for the price it's unbelievable. It looks like it cost much more."

Mrs. Robert J. Stalz, Deer Park, New York

ANN LANDERS

Too Many Pills For Ruth

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: My sister, who is the mother of three darling children, has been acting awfully goofy of late.

Ruth talks a lot more than she used to and much of her conversation makes no sense. Her husband told me in confidence that Ruth has been going to two doctors and neither one knows about the other. I'm beginning to put the pieces together since he mentioned his concern about the number of pills she takes.

I strongly suspect Ruth is getting some sort of "prescription only" drug from both doctors and that she is hopped up from too much stuff. Can this be dangerous? What should be done about it? — MRS. NO NAME

Dear Mrs: This CAN be dangerous. Like very. Also foolish. Your sister isn't hurting the doctors but she is jeopardizing her health and maybe her life. Ruth's husband should telephone each doctor and inform him of the other. And I hope you'll urge him to do so at once. It could be a matter of life and death.

Forgotten Mumps

Dear Ann: Last week our 3-year-old son got the mumps. The first thing the doctor asked was, "Has your husband had the mumps?" I asked Bennie and he couldn't remember so I called my mother-in-law. She said, "How am I supposed to know what happened 30 years ago? Two of my boys had mumps, but I don't know if it was Bennie and Louie or Louie and Izzy."

I called Louie. He said he had the mumps and he thught Bennie had them too, but he wasn't positive. So, the doctor gave my husband a shot. He was sick as a dog for a half a day.

Yesterday Izzy called to say he heard Bennie was sick from a mumps shot and asked, "Why did he take it? Bennie had the mumps when I did."

Please tell mothers everywhere that they can save their kids a lot of trouble by keeping a record of who had what. Thank you. — ZY GEZUNDT.

Dear Zy: Right you are. But don't be too tough on your mother-in-law. Better for Bennie that he took a shot he didn't need than to have needed a shot he didn't take.

Private Property

Dear Ann: Does the local newspaper office open the letters to you and then send them all together in a large envelope? Or do you receive the letters unopened?

I guess what I really want to know is this: Do the people who work in the newspaper office, of say the Arkansas Gazette, see the Ann Landers mail before you do? — NEEDING ANONYMITY.

Dear Needing: All mail addressed to Ann Landers is forwarded to me unopened. It's a federal offense to intentionally open a letter addressed to another party.

Confidentially

Is The Time Now?: In my opinion — no. It is a wise person who knows when to seize an opportunity. Itis a wiser one still who knows when to forego an advantage.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Personalities In The News

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — President Tito's 77th birthday was marked Sunday by a party attended by more than 50,000 at the Belgrade army stadium. where 6,500 performers offerd a program of dances, songs and gymnastics.

NORTHFIELD, Minn. (AP) — Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., figures a billion dollars will pay for the war in Vietnam for less than two weeks but would support half a dozen small colleges indefinitely.

Mondale spoke Sunday at commencement exercises of St. Olaf college, a liberal arts school with an enrollment of about 1,500.

He said a billion dollars would be enough to operate St. Olaf, tution free, for 125 years, and if used as an endowment would probably finance six colleges that size "forever."

VIENNA (AP) — Leonard Bernstein got a standing ovation from an audience of 2,000 for his conducting of Beethoven's "Missa Solemnis" to mark the 100th anniversary of the Vienna State Opera.

The performance Sunday by the Vienna Philharmonic and the State Opera choir was attended by President Franz Jonas, Chancellor Josef Klaus and other dignitaries.

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, says campus violence "blatantly violates the rights of those who desire to pursue their education free of harassment."

He told the graduating class of Mississippi College one of their problems upon leaving school would be a growing disregard and disrespect for law and order. The senator added:

"You must help define the point at which the rights of one individual end where the rights of another individual begin."

Given Monkey House

LONDON (AP) — Michael Sobell, a retired industrialist, has given London Zoo $600,000 to meet costs of building a new monkey house.

Decided To Settle

BORGER, Tex. (AP) — An unidentified Borger man correctly predicted in mid-March that striking employes of Phillips Petroleum Co. would be back on the job one midnight. He said he knew the strike was over when he was in a grocery store and watched wives of workmen on the midnight shift buying supplies for their husband's sandwiches.

Unemployment Costs

LONDON (AP) — Unemployment benefits cost Britain more than 125,319,000 pounds ($300,765,600) last year, the government has announced.

130 Attend Masonic Fete For Pattison

Some 130 members and guests attended the testimonial dinner Saturday night for John R. Pattison at the Masonic Temple on Broadway.

The invocation was given by the Rev. H. Gene Toot of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church, of which Pattison is a member.

Alex Kidd offered a resume of Pattison's Masonic and public life.

Pattison was presented a plaque in recognition of his long service by William R. Martin, worshipful master of Masonic Lodge 681, and Past Master Keith McKinney discussed Pattison's activities on behalf of the organization.

Secretary Bertram Wakefield read letters of appreciation from members of the Grand Lodge of Ohio and neighboring lodges.

Among those recognized were: Earl Neiser, Harry Morgan, Theodore Koenig, Robert Mattern, John Everhart and James Lowe, past masters; James Hale, Harold Peterson, Fred Doutt and Kidd, 33rd-degree Masons; Homer Hoffman and Jack Pryor, knights of the York Cross of Honor, and James Burrell and Anthony Sebastian, Youngstown area Masons.

Entertainment was provided by Mrs. Eileen Brown in the lodge room.

Dinner was prepared by the East Liverpool Fellowcraft Club, with Bernard Thomas and Clyde W. Kidder in charge.

Round, Square Dance Held By Area Grange

GUILFORD — The Guilford Grange held a round and square dance Friday night, with "Four Lads And A Gal" providing the music.

A similar social is planned June 13.

Mrs. Winnie Broomall and Mrs. Rudy Falk served lunch following the dance.

Inspection will be held during the June 7 meeting at 8:30 p.m.

New Requirement

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The state Water Pollution Control Commission is giving most boat owners until 1970 to comply with a new requirement for waste disposal with on-board toilets.

Congress Hit By Mansfield

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield—adding his voice to mounting congressional claims of wasteful military spending—says Congress must take much of the blame.

"I think that the Congress has been at fault for allowing things to get out of hand," Mansfield said Sunday.

But unlike congressional critics who are pressing for investigation of military contract practices and legislation to control them, Mansfield said he believes the controversy over the antimissile system already has brought a change of attitude.

And he said the blame cannot be laid simply to growth of a military-industrial combine.

"I think this combine," he said, "which is not just military-industrial but includes labor, the academic area, and the political field—including people like myself who want projects for their states—are all at fault and are all to blame because we haven't had the guts to stand up to this growth like topsy."

Whereever the blame lies Mansfield said, he questions the type of military contracts that have been let, the money spent, the money wasted, "and the fact that until last year all the Defense Department had to do was to ask and they would receive."

Mrs. Roy Welsh was in charge of a brief business session.

OEA Holds Discussions On Finances

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The financial plight of Ohio's schools was discussed by about 2,500 teachers and 50 legislators at 21 meetings around the state Saturday.

The meetings were called by the Ohio Education Association in its efforts to Get the Ohio General Assembly to approve a bill creating a mandatory statewide 1 per cent county income tax.

Two of the teacher-legislator meetings were held Friday. Another will be held today as classes for Warren's 14,200 public school students were canceled.

The group began putting pressure on the legislature following the May 6 primary defeat of all school issues on the ballot.

"Ohio's schools are on the brink of chaos," OEA Executive Secretary Stayner F. Brighton told 75 teachers and legislators at a Columbus meeting.

"Ohio is one of the wealthiest states in the United States but ranked when it comes to support through local and state taxes it is last," he added.

Brighton told the group that if Ohioans were taxed at the national average, $600 million more tax money would be raised yearly.

Two legislators pushing for the income tax—Rep. Mark C. Shinnerer, R-49 Lakewood, and Sen. John H. Weeks, R - 25 Lakewood — told about 250 Cleveland area teachers that there would be a concentrated effort to push a new tax bill through the legislature. Both are sponsors of measures for a 1 per cent income tax.

But in Cincinnati, Sen. Michael Maloney, R- 7 Cincinnati, told 200 educators he did not favor a corresponding reduction of real estate taxes because local governments also needed money. He said he favored a plan that would give 25 per cent of the income tax to local governments and the rest to local schools.

Rep. Max Pemberton, R - 61 Columbus, told the Columbus meeting that he thought the primary school defeats had changed the minds of many legislators.

"Some legislators who were saying 'I won't vote for any tax for any purpose,' are now saying 'I'll vote for this tax for this purpose.'"

But Pemberton indicated he was not optimistic about the approval of a tax bill this session of the General Assembly.

The next meeting will be June 13.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Cookin' On Both Burners

DEAR HELOISE: It took me quite a while to get used to my new electric stove.

Whenever I wanted to bring something to a boil and then turn it down to a simmer, things either boiled over waiting for the burner to cool, or the pan cooled off too much if I set it off the burner 'til it cooled.

Well, I finally got smart! I turned one burner on high to bring the food to a boil and another burner on simmer. Then just switched burners when the time came.

-:-

Somebody really turned a switch on in your head when you "THINK" up that dilly!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: We keep our heating pad nice and clean by using a baby pillowcase over it. Fits perfectly.

We hold it on with a safety pin (through the case only). When necessary, just remove the case for washing. Sure protects the pad.

MRS. FREILICH.

DEAR HELOISE: We needed a small umbrella for the beach, so we got the old head thinking and came up with the idea of using Dad's worn-out rain umbrella.

We carefully took off the covering to use as a pattern. Then we cut a new cover put of an old shower curtain, sewed a strip about four inches around the edge for a "hangover," and added a fringe all around.

Down at the local hardware store we got a 35-cent clamp to go on the end of it. Now we have an umbrella that can be clamped on the arm of any beach chair — all for only 35 cents!

If you don't have an old umbrella ... make a trip to your Goodwill store and for just a few nickels you can buy one.

Sure is nice, even for patio.

G.M.

DEAR HELOISE: My teenage daughter had trouble with her shoes slipping and wearing out the heel of her nylons. We decided to try a strip of foam weatherstripping that has adhesive on one side.

We cut it to go around the inside of the heelof the shoe, peeled off the backing, then stuck itin the shoe.

No more slipping!

MRS. M.W.M.

Letter Of Laughter

DEAR HELOISE: When my children were small, there were days when they were all in the house and made so much noise I could have screamed. . .

One day I decided, "If you can't beat 'em join 'em."

I got out all my metal lids and some old pans and spoons.

We then put marching records on and spent about ten minutes marching follow-the-leader style — and playing our "instruments."

After all that racket, everyone was glad to have a quiet time. Helped everyone let off steam and even Mother's tensions relaxed too.

Nowadays, whenever I hear a rousing march, it brings back very happy memories.

PEGGY McCALLEN.

DEAR HELOISE: My 18-year-old granddaughter taught me an unusual way to shell an egg. My eggs always came out so messy.

She cracks gently around the egg with the edge of a knife. Then takes each side of the egg in both hands and turns gently in opposite directions.

Do it carefully, as the shell comes off slick as a whistle and can slip out of your hand before you know it.

PAM'S GRANDMOTHER.

DEAR HELOISE: For those who picnic often:

Save all the children's popsicle sticks. They make real handy mustard and mayonnaise spreaders, and can be thrown away at the picnic area.

Saves taking a knife to have to wash and take back home.

MRS. C. P.

Instructors In Chicago Approve Pact

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago's public school teachers have voted 9,776 to 585 to accept a new contract which ends a two-day strike and makes them the highest paid teachers in major U.S. cities.

The agreement was worked out last week by the Chicago Teachers Union and the Board of Education in the office of Mayor Richard J. Daley.

"We are telling our teachers to go back to school Monday," John E. Desmond, CTU president, said Sunday in announcing the results of the voting.

The city's 523 elemtntary and high schools with 600,000 pupils were closed Thursday and Friday by the first teacher strike in history in Chicago's public schools. About 75 per cent of the 23,000 teachers stayed home.

Acceptance of the one-year contract was recommended by both Desmond and the union's governing House of Representatives.

The contract gives teachers a $100-a-month raise and provides fringe benefits and improved working conditions.

Starting teachers will receive $8,400 annually effective in September. Detroit ranks second in starting teachers' salaries with $7,500.

The contract also specifies there will be no layoffs for regularly assigned teachers or other staff members, a reduction of class sizes, no cutback in the 1969 summer school program, no decrease in educational programs, and that full-time substitute teachers will be certified after three years of satisfactory teaching without having to pass any tests.

The teachers had sought a $150-a-month pay increase.

2 Seen Leading Democratic Slate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — John J. Gilligan and Robert E. Sweeney, two familiar figures in Ohio politics, appear to be the leading candidates for the 1970 Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Former Congressman Gilligan, a red-haired Cincinnatian who unsuccessfully sought a U. S. Senate seat last November, seemed to be the No. 1 contender following a statewide party policy meeting here Saturday.

Running a close second was Clevelander Sweeney, also a former Congressman.

Besides having served terms in the U.S. House, Gilligan and Sweeney have something else in common—both were beaten by current U.S. Sen. William B. Saxbe.

ANN LANDERS

Too Many Pills For Ruth

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: My sister, who is the mother of three darling children, has been acting awfully goofy of late.

Ruth talks a lot more than she used to and much of her conversation makes no sense. Her husband told me in confidence that Ruth has been going to two doctors and neither one knows about the other. I'm beginning to put the pieces together since he mentioned his concern about the number of pills she takes.

I strongly suspect Ruth is getting some sort of "prescription only" drug from both doctors and that she is hopped up from too much stuff. Can this be dangerous? What should be done about it? — MRS. NO NAME

Dear Mrs: This CAN be dangerous. Like very. Also foolish. Your sister isn't hurting the doctors but she is jeopardizing her health and maybe her life. Ruth's husband should telephone each doctor and inform him of the other. And I hope you'll urge him to do so at once. It could be a matter of life and death.

Forgotten Mumps

Dear Ann: Last week our 3-year-old son got the mumps. The first thing the doctor asked was, "Has your husband had the mumps?" I asked Bennie and he couldn't remember so I called my mother-in-law. She said, "How am I supposed to know what happened 30 years ago? Two of my boys had mumps, but I don't know if it was Bennie and Louie or Louie and Izzy."

I called Louie. He said he had the mumps and he thught Bennie had them too, but he wasn't positive. So, the doctor gave my husband a shot. He was sick as a dog for a half a day.

Yesterday Izzy called to say he heard Bennie was sick from a mumps shot and asked, "Why did he take it? Bennie had the mumps when I did."

Please tell mothers everywhere that they can save their kids a lot of trouble by keeping a record of who had what. Thank you. — ZY GEZUNDT.

Dear Zy: Right you are. But don't be too tough on your mother-in-law. Better for Bennie that he took a shot he didn't need than to have needed a shot he didn't take.

Private Property

Dear Ann: Does the local newspaper office open the letters to you and then send them all together in a large envelope? Or do you receive the letters unopened?

I guess what I really want to know is this: Do the people who work in the newspaper office, of say the Arkansas Gazette, see the Ann Landers mail before you do? — NEEDING ANONYMITY.

Dear Needing: All mail addressed to Ann Landers is forwarded to me unopened. It's a federal offense to intentionally open a letter addressed to another party.

Confidentially

Is The Time Now?: In my opinion — no. It is a wise person who knows when to seize an opportunity. Itis a wiser one still who knows when to forego an advantage.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

NORTHFIELD, Minn. (AP) — Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., figures a billion dollars will pay for the war in Vietnam for less than two weeks but would support half a dozen small colleges indefinitely.

Mondale spoke Sunday at commencement exercises of St. Olaf college, a liberal arts school with an enrollment of about 1,500.

He said a billion dollars would be enough to operate St. Olaf, tution free, for 125 years, and if used as an endowment would probably finance six colleges that size "forever."

VIENNA (AP) — Leonard Bernstein got a standing ovation from an audience of 2,000 for his conducting of Beethoven's "Missa Solemnis" to mark the 100th anniversary of the Vienna State Opera.

The performance Sunday by the Vienna Philharmonic and the State Opera choir was attended by President Franz Jonas, Chancellor Josef Klaus and other dignitaries.

Bernstein, retiring conductor of the New York Philharmonic, has made frequent guest appearances in Vienna.

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, says campus violence "blatantly violates the rights of those who desire to pursue their education free of harassment."

He told the graduating class of Mississippi College one of their problems upon leaving school would be a growing disregard and disrespect for law and order. The senator added:

"You must help define the point at which the rights of one individual end where the rights of another individual begin."

India Will Erect Statue Of Gandhi

NEW DELHI (AP) — After much debate, the Indian government has decided to erect a statue of Mohandas Ghandhi, the freedom movement leader, in the place of George V, whose statue was recently taken down from a centrally located pedestal overlooking India Gate — New Delhi's Arc de Triomphe.

Other contenders for the place were Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru and — a dark horse — the militant Bengali nationalist Subash Chandra Bose.

Golf Grows Fastest

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP) —Golf, the fastest growing sport in New Zealand, has almost doubled its number of players in a decade. Ten years ago the male membership of 320 clubs was 26,101. For the 1968-69 year it is 50,384 in 340 clubs.

All Venice stands on thick planks and stone foundations supported by thousands of wooden piles. Perhaps eight inches a century, the piles are sinking into mud.

Governor Released Following Operation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes will be whispering for the next two weeks as he recovers from a throat operation.

Rhodes was released from University Hospital Saturday, a day after doctors removed a small nodule from his vocal cords.

Doctors said the ailment, known as "singer's nodule," is common among people who do a lot of talking and public speaking.

Rhodes was advised not to take on any speaking engagements and to speak in a whisper for about two weeks following the operation.

No More Rain Needed

SYDNEY (AP) — Heavy April rain filled Sydney's water storage dams. A Water Board spokesman said they now hold enough water to meet Sydney's demand for the next five years without more rain.

Varsity and reserve cheerleaders for the 1969-70 school year at Midland Lincoln High School have been selected. They are Jackie Flemming, captain, Carol Haggerty, Kathy Haggerty, Ellen Marcum, Bernice Newman, Kathleen Short and Becky Vesco.

Some 130 members and guests attended the testimonial dinner Saturday night for John R. Pattison at the Masonic Temple on Broadway.

The invocation was given by the Rev. H. Gene Toot of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church, of which Pattison is a member.

Alex Kidd offered a resume of Pattison's Masonic and public life.

Pattison was presented a plaque in recognition of his long service by William R. Martin, worshipful master of Masonic Lodge 681, and Past Master Keith McKinney discussed Pattison's activities on behalf of the organization.

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The state Water Pollution Control Commission is giving most boat owners until 1970 to comply with a new requirement for waste disposal with on-board toilets.

Congress Hit By Mansfield

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield—adding his voice to mounting congressional claims of wasteful military spending—says Congress must take much of the blame.

"I think that the Congress has been at fault for allowing things to get out of hand," Mansfield said Sunday.

But unlike congressional critics who are pressing for investigation of military contract practices and legislation to control them, Mansfield said he believes the controversy over the antimissile system already has brought a change of attitude.

And he said the blame cannot be laid simply to growth of a military-industrial combine.

"I think this combine," he said, "which is not just military-industrial but includes labor, the academic area, and the political field—including people like myself who want projects for their states—are all at fault and are all to blame because we haven't had the guts to stand up to this growth like topsy."

Whereever the blame lies Mansfield said, he questions the type of military contracts that have been let, the money spent, the money wasted, "and the fact that until last year all the Defense Department had to do was to ask and they would receive."

OEA Holds Discussions On Finances

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The financial plight of Ohio's schools was discussed by about 2,500 teachers and 50 legislators at 21 meetings around the state Saturday.

The meetings were called by the Ohio Education Association in its efforts to Get the Ohio General Assembly to approve a bill creating a mandatory statewide 1 per cent county income tax.

Two of the teacher-legislator meetings were held Friday. Another will be held today as classes for Warren's 14,200 public school students were canceled.

[illegible] began putting pressure on the legislature following the May 6 primary defeat of most of all school issues on the ballot.

"Ohio's schools are on the brink of chaos," OEA Executive Secretary Stayner F. Brighton told 75 teachers and legislators at a Columbus meeting.

"Ohio is one of the wealthiest states in the United States but added when it comes to support through local and state taxes it is last," he added.

Brighton told the group that if Ohioans were taxed at the national average, $600 million more tax money would be raised yearly.

Two legislators pushing for the income tax—Rep. Mark C. Shinnerer, R-49 Lakewood, and Sen. John H. Weeks, R - 25 Lakewood — told about 250 Cleveland area teachers that there would be a concentrated effort to push a new tax bill through the legislature. Both are sponsors of measures for a 1 per cent income tax.

But in Cincinnati, Sen. Michael Maloney, R- 7 Cincinnati, told 200 educators he did not favor a corresponding reduction of real estate taxes because local governments also needed money. He said he favored a plan that would give 25 per cent of the income tax to local governments and the rest to local schools.

Rep. Max Pemberton, R - 61 Columbus, told the Columbus meeting that he thought the primary school defeats had changed the minds of many legislators.

"Some legislators who were saying 'I won't vote for any tax for any purpose,' are now saying 'I'll vote for this tax for this purpose.' "

But Pemberton indicated he was not optimistic about the approval of a tax bill this session of the General Assembly.

The next meeting will be June 13.
